SEPTEMBER

The summer of 1980 faded and with its death, the memory of warm beautiful days began to flourish. As the school bells ushered in yet another school year, other kinds of sounds could be heard in the band room as the CFH Marching Band prepared to enter three invitational competitions. Competing at Seventy-First, Rockingham, and Lee County high schools, these talented musicians won a total of six first place and two second place awards. Their rating was

SUPERIOR.

Just as nature colors her leaves in the fall, the band brings a special kind of color to football games. With the twirling of batons, waving of flags, tooting of horns, and beating of drums, Jim Crayton's gang brings to the Colt stadium a musical beat — and the beat goes on . . .

As September dawned upon us, so did the beginning of a new and exciting school year. Even before the students flooded the campus, teachers were hard at work making plans, decorating bulletin boards, hearing procedures explained, attending in-service meetings, and doing all the good things teachers do preparing for a coming year. Offering a brief diversion from so much drudgery, the Student Council Association prepared an cookout for this group. There was sunshine and laughter as members of the faculty assembled on the front campus and enjoyed an All-American lunch of hot dogs and hamburgers. This occasion provided these special educators an opportunity to relax and savor a short period together before tackling another busy school year.

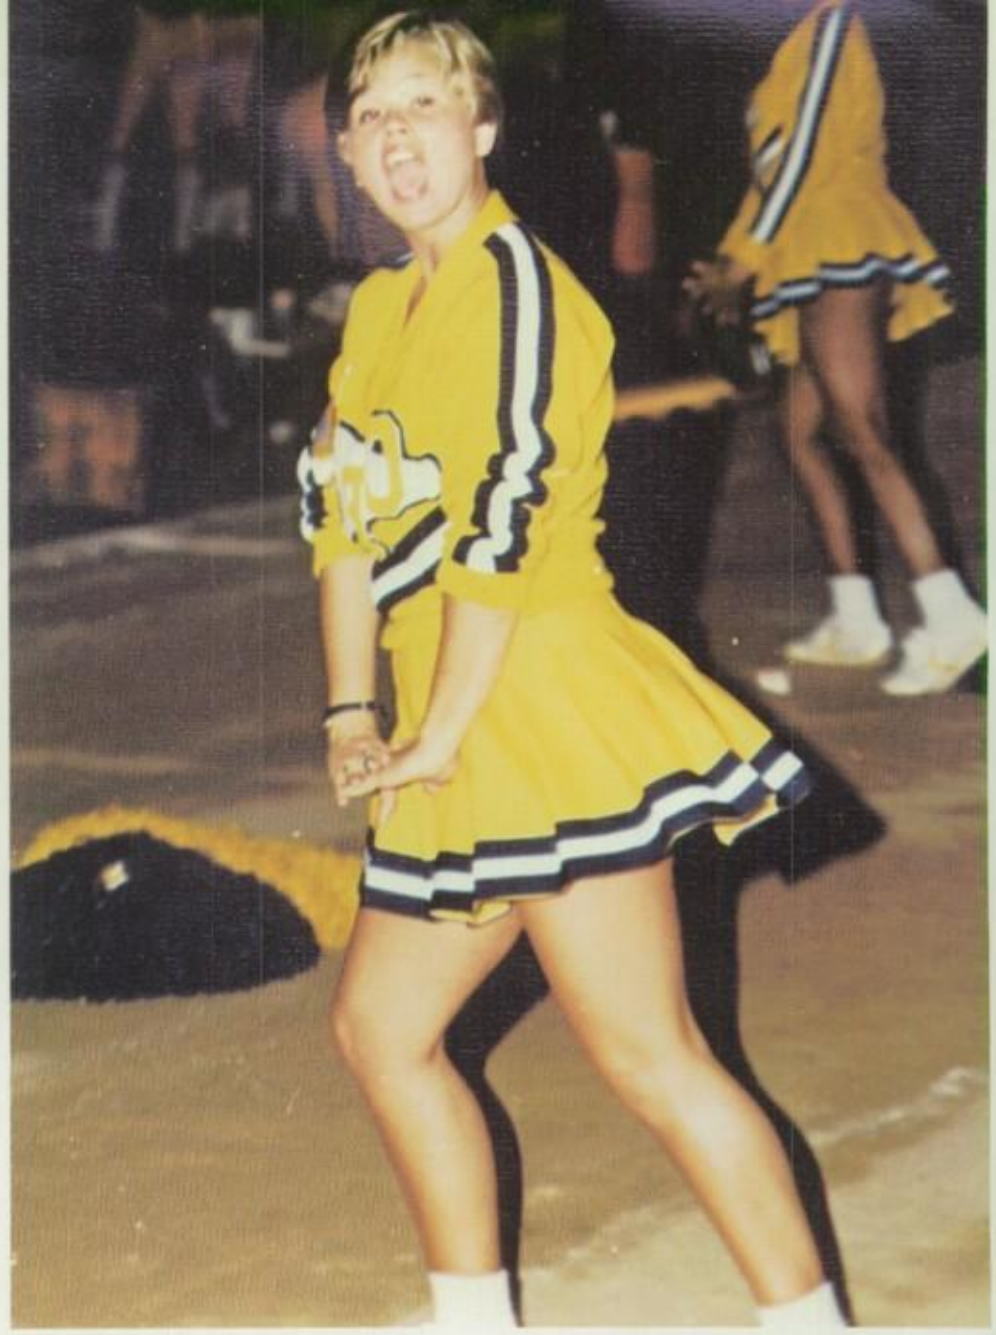
U-THAMES

OCTOBER

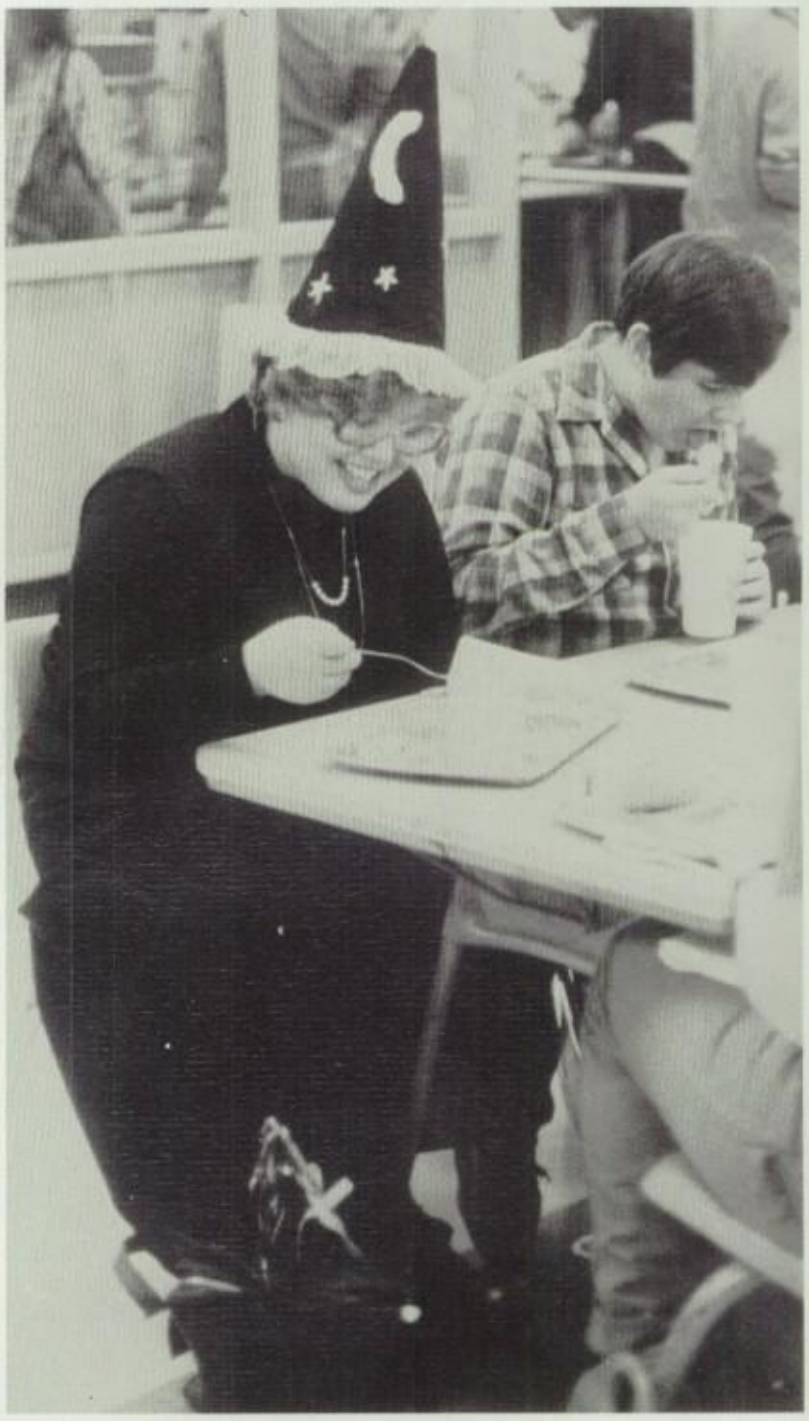
Late October — a fine time for Homecoming! The fall colors were just beginning to wane and the nip in the air made for typical football weather. The week of October 27 arrived with mounting excitement. But Homecoming was more than a week of fun-filled events. It symbolized a continual tradition of togetherness and unification. During the week there was an atmosphere of friendly, spirited competition prevailing between the three classes. Friday night saw the climax of

HOMECOMING WEEK.

Cape Fear High displayed its togetherness and Colt pride by unitedly cheering our football team to victory and welcoming our 1980 Homecoming Queen, Veronica McLaurin. Our charging Colts stampeded the now tamed Tigers by a score of 30-0. Ending the festivities of the 1980 Homecoming week on a victorious note, the pride of the Colts lingers on.



TIGER
EATER



With a realization of the arrival of Homecoming Week set in their minds, the members of the football team decided it was time to prove themselves. As Friday night's match-up with South View drew closer, intensity rose with each day. The practices were incredibly exciting and auspicious, and the confidence beaming from each player reached its acme at eight o'clock Halloween night. In an awesome display of Colt pride, the team was impressively

VICTORIOUS!

The spark and consistency of the Gold Rush provided 30 points, and the gang-tackling dominance of the Blue Crush held the Tigers scoreless. The true talent and personality of this team had been showcased, and as each team member hooked his horns, a long awaited accolade was directed at the real Cape Fear Colts. The senior players left the field with a beautiful memory of their final high school homecoming game.

The Beta Club of Cape Fear High School held its annual induction ceremony on October 21, 1980.

The fifty-one new members to be inducted were selected on the basis of leadership, character, and scholastic achievement. The ceremony which began with the procession of all old members carrying a single lighted candle was presided over by the Beta president, Sam Smith. As state Beta Club president, Joe Catlett spoke on behalf of all Betas throughout the state. Speeches were also given by other members of the club.

Sue Averitt, representative of the new Beta members, accepted the challenge for the inductees at this ceremony. The new members then recited the Beta Club pledge, thus officially making them members of this prestigious organization.

NOVEMBER

For three successive years, Cape Fear High School has hosted the Southeastern District

BETA CONVENTION.

This honorable tradition has been established through the assiduous efforts of the Cape Fear Betas to produce three consecutive district presidents. This convention allows for the development of leadership abilities among Beta members in providing time for sharing common interests in achieving unity as friends.

The 1980 convention was held on November 22 with Gary Hubbard presiding as president. Two hundred members from fifteen schools met to conduct district business and to participate in the day's activities. Elections for officers were held and Cape Fear High was successful once again in electing the new district president, Melinda West. The afternoon began with a talent show and Cape Fear was well represented. Kelly Horne and Linda McLeod performed a duet of religious music; and Diane Parker, Keith Hall, Lori Autry, Lisa Buck, and Ken Fernald presented selections of Dixieland music. The Saturday's events provided ample opportunity for everyone to make new friends and renew old acquaintances.

DECEMBER

"The Diary of Anne Frank" marks another success in a continued tradition of fine performances by the Cape Fear Players. On December 3 and 4, a talented group of drama enthusiasts presented this dramatic play in an improvised theatre to a capacity audience. Depicting a lesson in love and hate, the play portrayed the lives of a group of Jews who spent many years in hiding from the Nazis. A very moving and touching story, "The Diary of Anne Frank," under the direction of Mrs. Nina Corders, has been acclaimed as the ever by the Cape Fear Players.

Again this year the music department presented a musical Christmas card to CFHS and the surrounding communities. The bands and combined choruses presented a celebration in song, complimenting the Yuletide season. Each performing group said "Merry Christmas" to all in a special

MUSICAL TREAT.

"Sing We Noel" was the theme of the chorus concert. Using lighted candles, choreography, and featured soloists, the chorale and mixed chorus rendered a superb performance. Selections from Handel's "Messiah" were the highlights of the evening.

The concert, wind ensemble and stage bands presented an additional concert of Christmas music. These bands played many holiday favorites, including a selection of jazz and rock arrangements.

Through song, dance, and instrumental music, the music department combined their talents in wishing one and all the happiest of holidays.

The Hoofbeat staff has worked very hard this year to produce a school newspaper that would not only inform the students about special people and events, but also do so in an interesting and exciting way. The journalism students gained valuable experience as they strove to produce this newspaper. While learning the basics of journalism, they learned how to work together to print a successful newspaper.

The joint efforts of the Hoofbeat staff won them an international second place award given by the Quill and Scroll Society and judged by the School of Journalism at the University of Iowa. Cape Fear High is proud of this is all about — a summary of the good times and the bad, the victories and the defeats, but most of all, a summary of the friendships enjoyed during this school year. The Résumé portrays this in a montage of still-life photographs coupled with a handful of paragraphs.

FEBRUARY

The word résumé means a summary, and that is what the

1981 RÉSUMÉ

February brought a climax to the staff's hard work. As the final deadline grew close, tempers became short, write-ups were lost and had to be rewritten, rulers were in short supply, one cropper had to be shared by all, pencil points were broken much too easily, and pictures were missing from every section of the book. But the special feeling of unity among the staff members, the knowledge that each had done his best and given his all, made these trials and tribulations worthwhile.

Leadership, obedience, and pride are but three of the qualities that a student can develop through participation in the Naval Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps program. The NJROTC program played a large role in the activities at Cape Fear High. They provided the color guard for all the home football and basketball games. They sponsored the Military Ball in May and the senior picnic at the end of school.

Last year the drill team won thirty-five awards, one of which was best naval male unit in North Carolina. On November 22, the annual spring inspection of the cadets was held in Smithfield-Selma. They won an overall for the third consecutive year which is something that has never been done before. They won the title of best unit in the Sixth Naval District which includes North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, and Georgia. The Navy inspection was held on April 15. This inspection was not only an inspection of the cadets, but also of Cape Fear High as a whole. Cape Fear High NJROTC truly means more than just wearing a uniform.

APRIL

On the evening of April 2, the 1981 Résumé staff created an aura of wonder and excitement as they staged the preliminaries of the twelfth annual Miss Cape Fear High pageant. As a galaxy of Cape Fear High's ladies promenaded gracefully down the lighted ramp, an excited audience watched in anticipation. As the pageant progressed, excitement and apprehension prevailed backstage while the contestants waited their turn to appear on stage. At the close of the preliminary competition, twenty-five semifinalists were selected by a panel of five judges and earned the privilege of competing again Friday night.

Final competition began on April 3 with the semifinalists appearing in their most elegant of street wear, followed by a last appearance in evening gowns as visions of whirled through their heads. After tremendous contemplation, the monumental decision was reached. Miss Cape Fear High of 1981 was crowned — Miss Karen Lockamy.

On April 10 and 11, 64 lovely young ladies from the Cape Fear High area charmed their way into the hearts of an attentive audience as they vied for the title of Little Miss Cape Fear High of 1980. Twenty-five petite semifinalists were chosen Thursday night to return Friday evening for the grand finale. On Friday the 25 semifinalists were narrowed down to ten finalists who eagerly awaited the climax of the pageant — the crowning of the new queen. The excitement and anticipation reached its peak as little Miss Dana Stephenson was crowned Little Miss Cape Fear High of 1980. The "Fantasy World of Mother Goose," hosted by Barbara Martin and Rodney Walker, was truly a

On April 26, 1980, a tranquil park scene, set against the background of a city skyline, was the beautiful setting for the annual Junior-Senior Prom. With sparkling dresses, dazzling tuxedos, candlelight music, and romantic dancing, the juniors and seniors put competitive instincts aside for the night and joined under a canopy to dance to the music of the Travelin' DISCO. Working many hours preparing for this very special night, the juniors once again produced a most successful prom. This elegant evening will be remembered

Entertainment for the cadets was provided by Quality Sound. Highlighting this evening of fun-filled activities was the crowning of Queen Esther Williams, Military Ball Queen.

JUNE

As the last strains of "Pomp and Circumstance" resounded throughout the Cumberland County Memorial Auditorium, 302 members of the 1980

GRADUATING CLASS

marched proudly into the world with tear-filled eyes and well-earned diplomas. Shouts of "don't forget to write" and "remember the time we . . . " faded into the laughter and sniffles of the crowd as each graudate went his own way.

Football

The popularity of football in Cumberland County's Division III runs sky high, and at Cape Fear High this year it was near "Cloud Nine." Football practice began in August with the team anxiously awaiting the coming season determined to improve its 4-6 slate from the previous year.

The Colts' 1980 season started optimistically with impressive wins over non-conference foes Lakewood and Lumberton. An unprecedented level of spirit and intensity rose across the river in preparation for the Colts' first conference game, against the Terry Sanford Bulldogs. A harrowing defeat at the hands of the dogs began a string of losses not neutralized until Homecoming Week.

Although the team did not live up to all of its expections, it showcased an abundance of exciting and college-bound talent. Offensively, the Colts were sparked by senior running-back Aaron Venson, who gained 873 yards rushing. Defensive-back Reggie Burnette was selected to the All-Division team for the second consecutive year.

The dedicated athletes of the 1980 Junior Varsity football team practiced dilligently each evening as the curtain lowered on the final days of summer. With a minimum amount of participation, the "small but tough" baby Colts played with inspiring enthusiasm throughout the season. Each succeeding game saw individual improvement. Although several contests were played down to the wire, no submission was entered into the win column. Yet, with the leadership of Coach Mike Stanbridge to guide them, the self-pride of each JV Colt undoubtedly benefitted to a great extent. Robert Reece, Doug Young, and MVP Pete Jernigan all made outstanding contributions to the team. Watch out Division II, next year these baby Colts will be young Stallions.

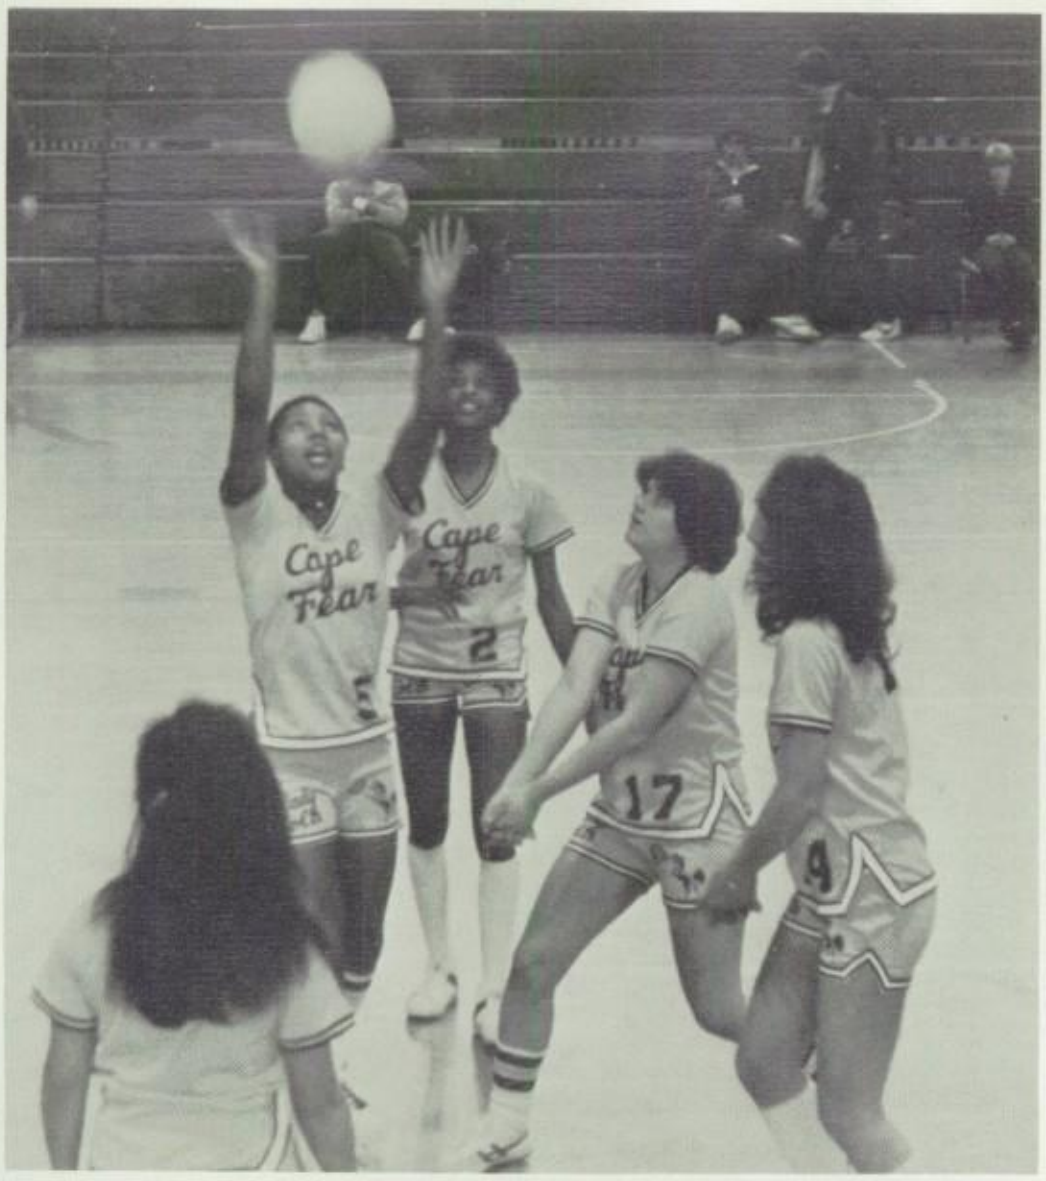
Cross Country

The Cross Country team of Cape Fear High received a tremendous blessing this year in the form of Coach Jeff Blount. A former member of the track team at Nebraska, Coach Blount brought with him the needed expertise and dedication to considerably upgrade the cross country program at CFHS.

With a very young team composed of 3 sophomores, 2 juniors, and 1 senior, Coach Blount was successful in beginning a running dynasty. Every team goal set for the season was attained and projected goals for future seasons were optimistically set. As these goals are reached, Cape Fear High will soon possess another championship team. Congratulations go to MVP Eddie Steele and the entire team for bringing CFH Cross Country team out of the shadows.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM: Johnny Strickland, Raymond Vrba, Ken Spell, Coach Blount, Eddie Steele, and Billy McLemore

Volleyball



The 1980 girls volleyball team, under the direction of Coaches Kleinert and Adams, proved themselves to be skillful and eager during the long hours of practice. Both coaches worked untiringly with this troup of outstanding young women. Led by seniors Audrey Moore and Sharon Sheets, the squad entered into Division III play optimistically. Although they did not live up to expectations, the girls did maintain their Colt spirit and pride, even in defeat. The team is looking forward to a better season next year relying on the talents of rising sophomore and returning juniors and seniors.

Girls Tennis

The month of August brought many things: the end of summer, the last days at the beach, and the expectations of a busy school year ahead. However, it also brought a few talented girls out to the green courts of Cape Fear High. With dark tans and rackets in hand, ten young women began practicing for the rigorous tennis season ahead. Coach Lopes, in his first year of coaching tennis, guided this relatively inexperienced group of young ladies. What the team lacked in experience however, they made up for with determination — working many long, hard hours perfecting their skills. Although the squad finished the season 3-10, they gained an infinite amount of knowledge and experience. We are looking forward to seeing great things come from these hard workers in the next few years.

Cape Fear High enjoyed a banner year in basketball in 1980-81, sweeping to wins in its first eight games. The excitement of victory once again swept Colt country.

The Colts of Coach Leon Brock were a pre-season pick to finish third in the division. Heavily-laden with talent, they produced a very successful season.

The Colts were led by junior scoring sensation James Rhone, who is considered by many to be one of the top players in the state, and senior pivotman Livis Baggett. Also making great contributions in the starting line-up were Frank Sessoms, David Horne, and Aaron Venson. With several returning lettermen, Cape Fear High promises to have another memorable season in '81-'82.

Girls Basketball

The Lady Colts entertained an extremely successful and victorious season in 1980-81. Under the direction of Coach Doris Howard, the Colts combined teamwork, talent, and dedication to come away with a winning record of 15-8.

Nineteen-eighty marked the first year of girls competition in the Fayetteville Observer-Times Holiday Classic. The CFHS girls attained a formidable showing of runner-up to eventual Division III champion Westover in this tournament.

The Colts were led by All-Conference standout Sandra Melvin who finished among the leaders in division scoring. Losing only two seniors to graduation, this team should continue their winning tradition next year.

Junior Varsity Basketball

The Junior Varsity basketball team suffered through a dismal season in 1980-81, yet was provided with valuable experience for the future. Although J.V. basketball lacks spectator support at Cape Fear High, the production of talent from this year's team should be an asset to the varsity squad next season. The dedication of Coach Evans helped each member of the team remain optimistic.

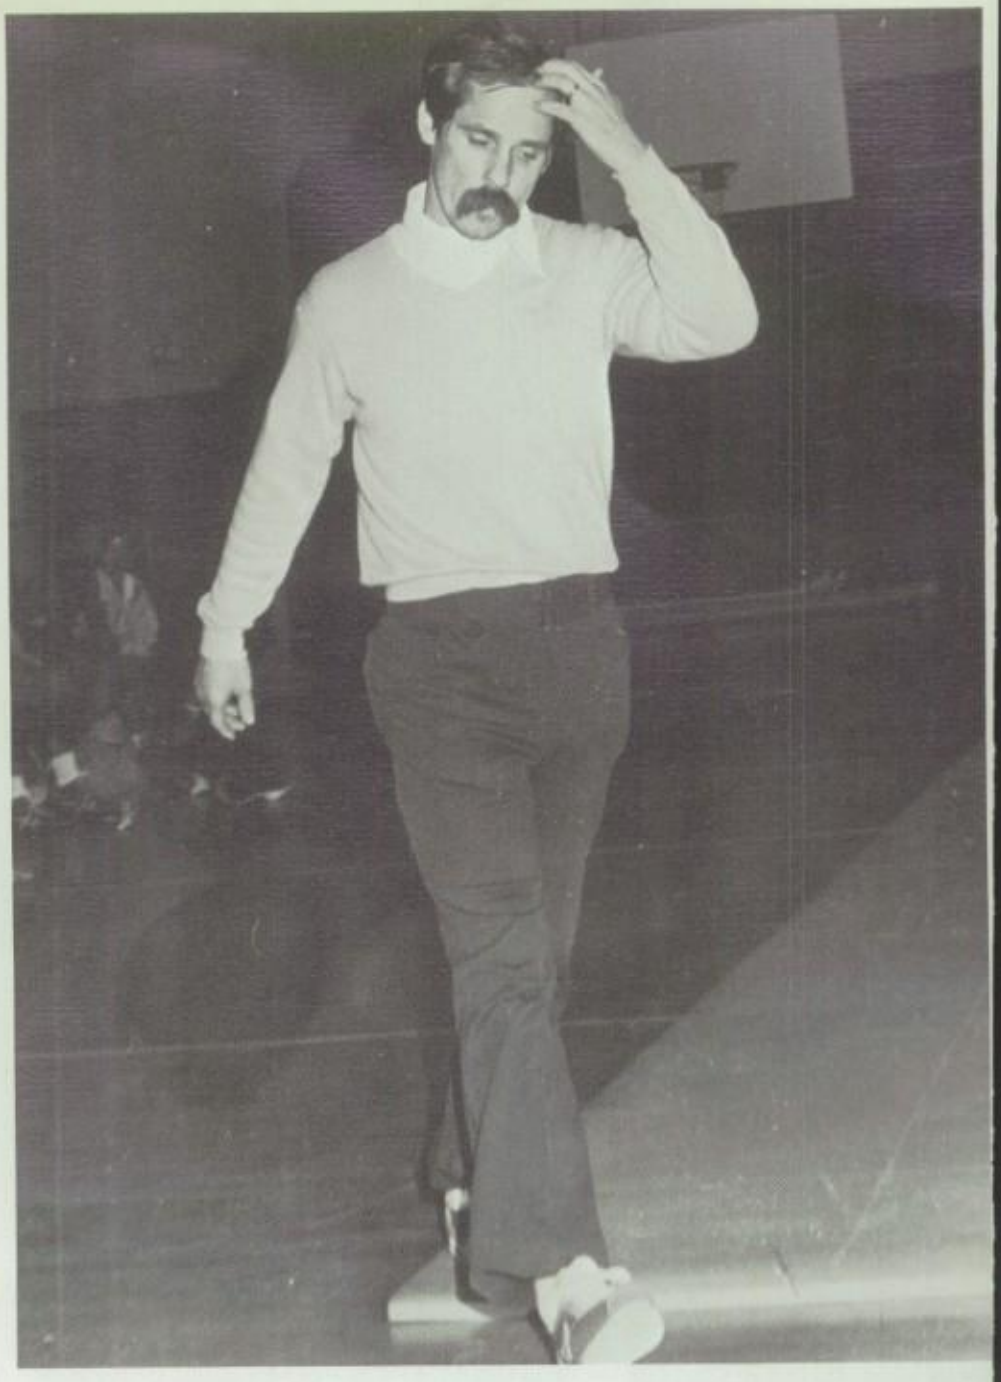
Wrestling



For more than a decade, wrestling at CFHS has been known as one of the most successful of the school's athletic programs. Trips to the state tournament have become an annual event. Even as recent as last year, the Colt grapplers went to the finals and finished second in the state, losing by only one-half point.

The 1980-81 season saw the Colts post a perfect 16-0 record in divisional competition. However, their bid for a sixth consecutive title at the Division Tournament was narrowly spoiled by a strong Seventy-First team. The outcome at the Sectional Tournament was nearly identical, with the top two teams separated by only four points. The Colts did, however, once again send several wrestlers to the state tournament and were expected to do well there.

Undefeated in the regular season were Greg Ransome and David Lock, who were joined by Joey Thames in the All-Division Team. Nineteen eighty-one also saw the celebration of Mike Stanbridge's one hundredth career win as Wrestling Coach at Cape Fear High.

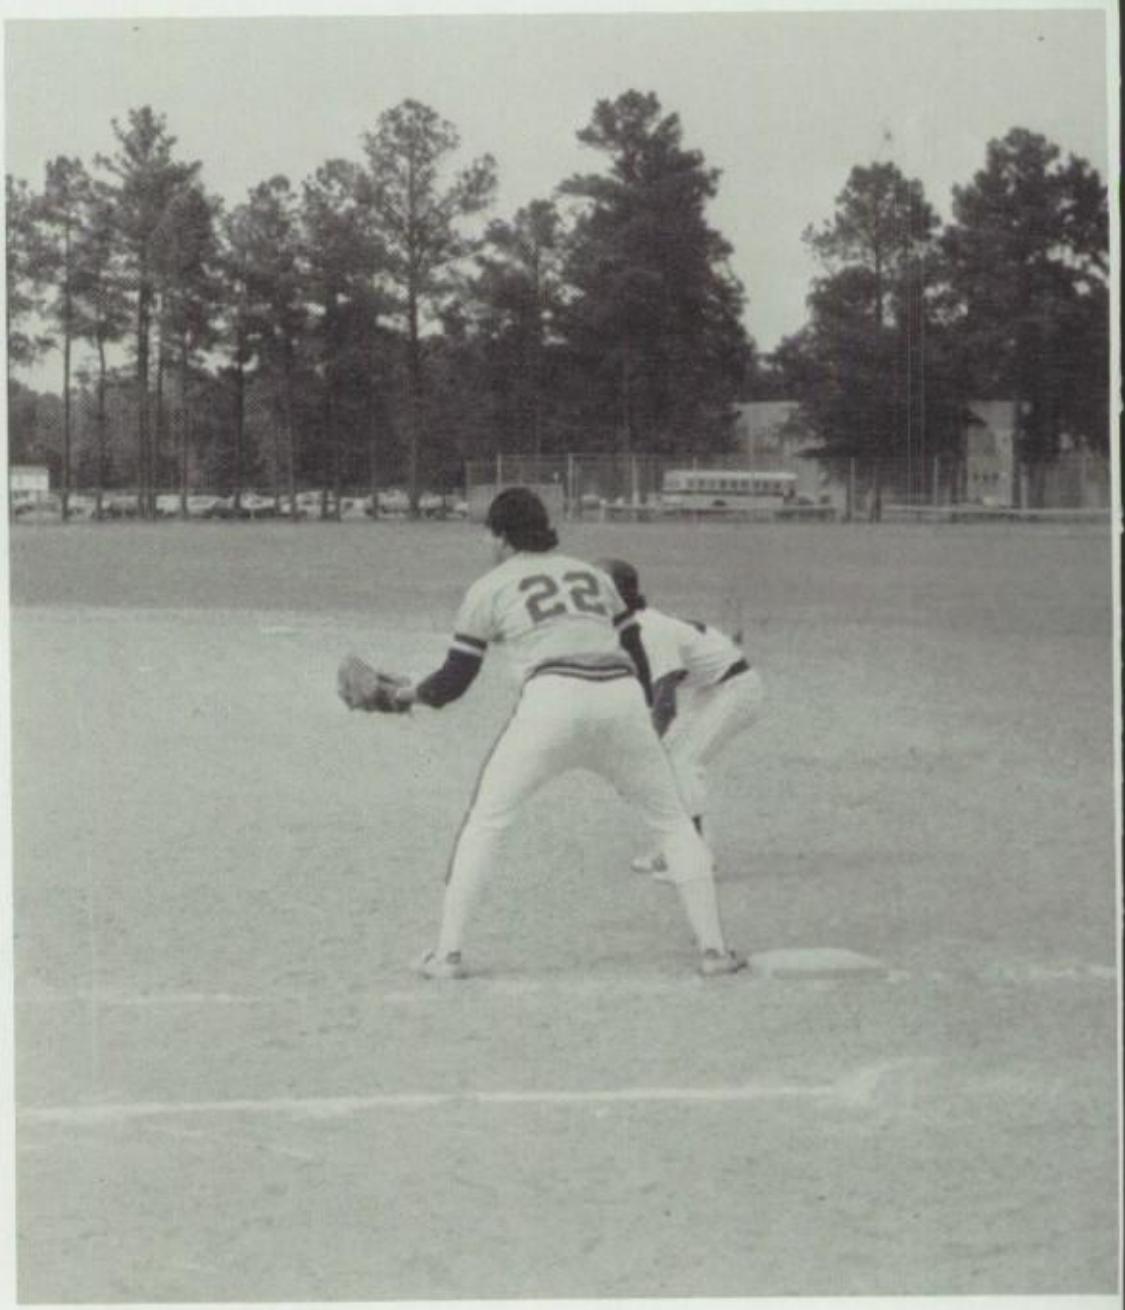
The 1980 baseball team, under the direction of Coach Evans, worked hard throughout the year perfecting old skills and acquiring new ones. These young men definitely possessed the spirit to play well and the stamina to play hard. Inconsistency, however, plagued the Colt team, forcing them to lose key games to conference opponents. Led by All-Conference Mike Brown, the squad did win some important contests and improved greatly on both offense and defense. All Colt fans are looking forward to the spring of 1981 with great anticipation for an exciting season.



Softball

The Lady Colts entered the 1980 softball season with a hard act to follow. In the two previous years, teams had competed for the State Campionship. This feat was again accomplished by a younger but equally as strong softball team. Good all-around play was the key to the success of Doris Howard's 1980 squad. They carried a 20-0 seasonal record into the state playoffs. After making it to the Championship series, South Mecklenburg edged the Colts out 2-1 in a 3-game series.

The 1980 boys track team suffered through an erratic but successful season. The running Colts, under the direction of veteran Coach Frank Beck, did well but only won one meet. The difficult Division III roster tried heavily on the squad; however, the season did have its bright spots. The mile relay team — Ronnie Bailey, Damon West, Larry Graham, and Greg Hunter — turned in impressive records throughout the year and in post-season play qualified to compete in the state finals. At these finals, the track stars finished fourth, establishing a new school record at 3-19-7. With plenty of young talent and determination, the 1981 season could be one of the best in recent years.

The dedicated athletes of the 1980 girls track team began practicing diligently in late winter. Under the direction of a new head coach, Coach Whitley, the girls tried several events before deciding on a solid line-up for the tough Division III schedule. Although the team, as a whole, did not win a meet, some very good individual performances were turned in. Shellarnetta Thames, competing in the 400 meters made it to the Regionals before being defeated. Felicia Warren, competing in the 200 meter hurdles proceeded to qualify for the state finals, placing a very respectable fifth. Since many of the squad's girls are returning juniors and seniors, lower times and higher heights are expected in future years.

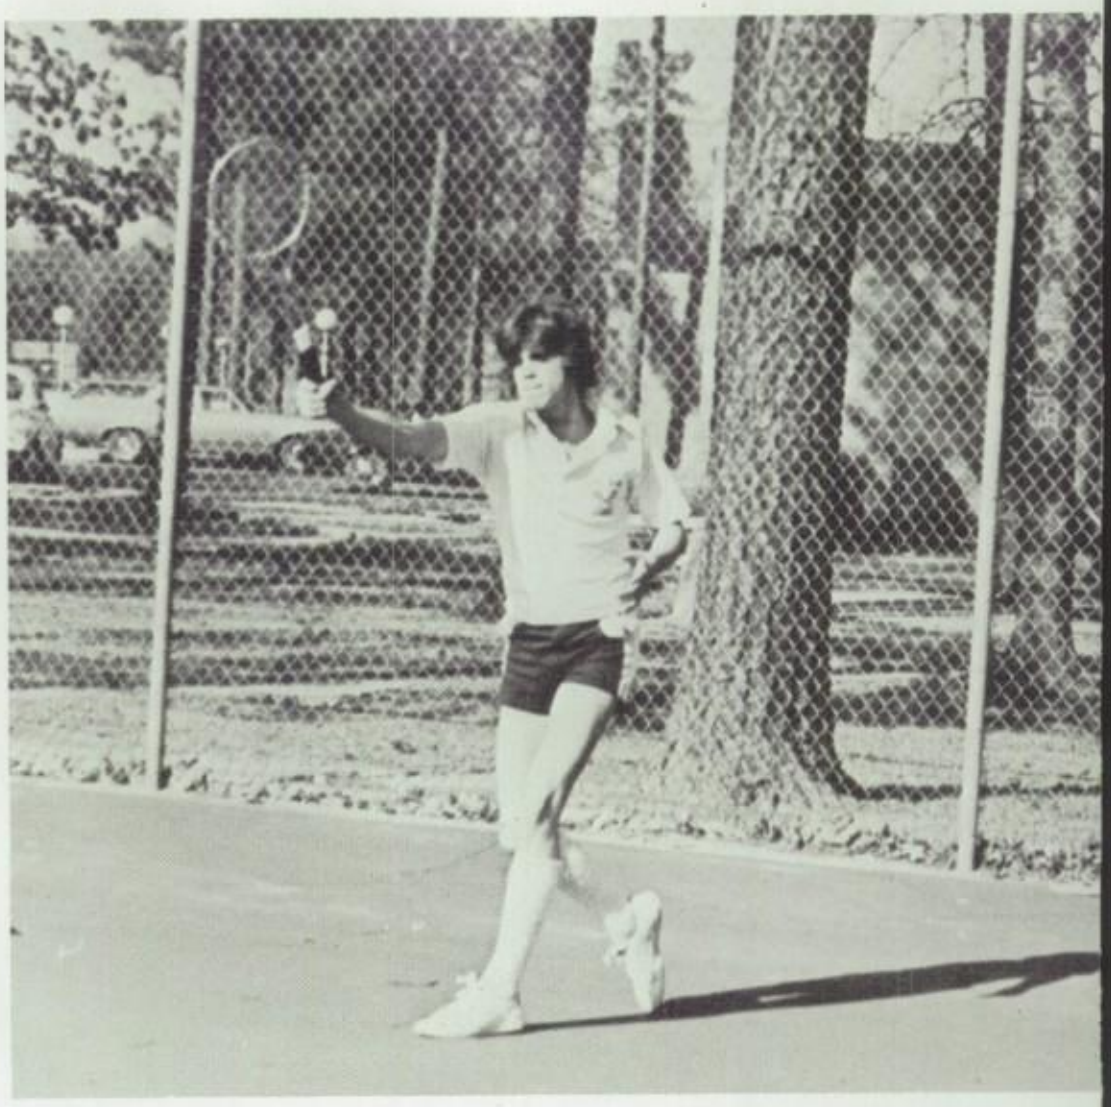
Boys Tennis



With excellent ability and a desire to win, the 1980 boys tennis team compiled a 5-3 record — the best in school history. Led by senior Jimmy Leggett, who was 15-5, the netters played tough in defeating many worthy opponents in post season play. Leggett swung his way into the quarterfinals of the conference tennis tournament. He teamed with Kelly Smith in the doubles competition to advance to the quarter-finals in the same tournament. In the Sectional Tennis Tourney, Leggett made it to the 16th round before having to default because of a heat-induced back injury. Coach Wells was pleased with the Colts' performance and is hoping for another successful season in '81.

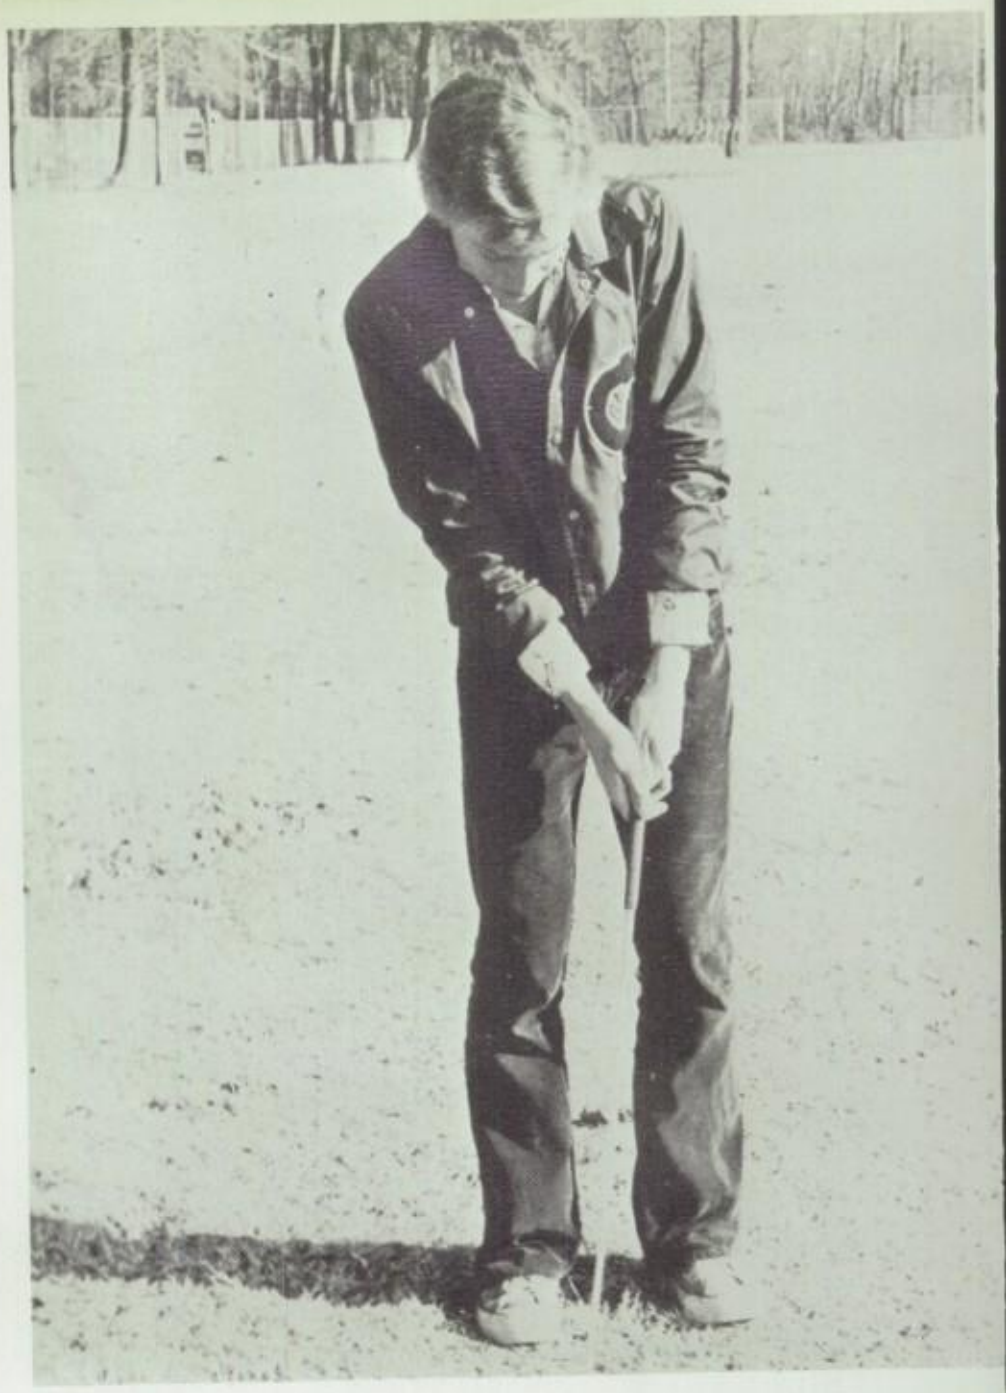
Golf



As springtime rolls into view, the attention of many turns toward the leisurely game of golf. This is true of the Cape Fear High golf team with Division III competition in mind. The golfers of the 1980 squad worked hard through a rebuilding season. With only one senior team member, a lack of experience was obvious; yet the Colts came away with a formidable seventh place finish in the division.

Dedication in the off-season by the 1981 team members has caused more interest and expectations for their success. Four returning lettermen, Joe Catlett, Ray Davis, Daryl Olsen, and Richard Dail, will undoubtedly contribute to a victorious season in 1981.

Long before any activity had begun at CFH in the fall, the cheerleaders were already practicing cheers and routines for the upcoming school year. In July this talented group headed to UNC-Chapel Hill for a cheerleading camp where they were proclaimed Grand Champions. When these spirited students returned to Colt country, they were ready for an exciting year of football and basketball.

With unfaltering enthusiasm and energy, both varsity and JV squads undauntedly supported our athletes. Under the direction of Ms. Deborah Tew, these cheerleaders once again proved the significance of cheerleading in our athletic program.

The goal of the Student Council Association is to supervise the overall activities of Cape Fear High as well as help worthwhile organizations throughout the community. This organization is composed of fifty-one members which include both the Executive Council, elected by the student body, and the homeroom representatives, selected by the respective homerooms.

Some of the many activities of the SCA were to sponsor Homecoming Week, Brotherhood Week, a talent show and a senior citizen's seminar. Members attended many workshops and conventions, as well as the State Student Council Convention where they were awarded the Louise Hunter Award for the Best Student Council in North Carolina.

The student council is one of the most integral elements in the workings of Cape Fear High. Their dedication and hard work are saluted.

Key Club

Ray Davis, President
Lane Mueller, Vice-President
Tarry Faircloth, Secretary
Greg Jackson, Treasurer
Mr. Weeks, Advisor
Mr. Jernigan, Advisor

Devoting many hours of service to the Rest Haven Nursing Home, seventeen Key Club members and their new advisors, Mr. Weeks and Mr. Jernigan, continued one of their most worthwhile projects. They also participated in the Powder-Puff football game and attended the fall and spring training conferences. Their motto, "We Build," certainly holds true with this group of fine young men who have become an inspiration to all.

Tri-Hi-Y

Sandra Autry, President
Linda McLeod, Vice-President
Lisa Buck, Secretary
Debbie Knight, Assistant Secretary
Suzanne Dowd, Treasurer
Dana Nix, Sergeant-At-Arms

The Tri-Hi-Y promoted Christian fellowhip through participation in school and community activities. Being one of our two service organizations, Tri-Hi-Y members have truly learned the meaning of giving. Involving its thirty-five members in service characterized the activities of this organization. They sponsored the Mr. Homecoming contest, recognized the teachers in November, donated clothes and toys to the Salvation Army at Christmas, served at the annual Navy JROTC banquet in January, sold singing valentines and flowers at school on Valentine's Day, and participated in Brotherhood Week by giving candy to the student body and sponsoring a cake walk at the Mini-Carnival.

Spanish Club

Angela Starling, President
Joe Phillips, Vice-President
Lori Edge, Secretary
Linda McLeod, Secretary
Mike Ferrari, Treasurer
Mr. Rinaldi, Advisor

To promote a greater interest in the Spanish language and culture, to stress the critical need of greater understanding and cooperaiton among peoples and nations of the world, to exercise the democratic system of government, and to support the build-up of the CFHS soccer team are the goals of the Spanish Club. This organization is fortunate in having Mr. Rinaldi, whose native tongue is Spanish, as advisor. By sharing his experiences of living in Argentina with its members, doors to a different world are opened, bringing students closer together with people less fortunate than Americans.

French Club

Keith Hall, President
Diane Parker, Vice-President
Kelly Horne, Secretary
Sonia Self, Treasurer
Ms. Leggett, Advisor

The French Club with thirty-six members strives to create a motivating force for the further study of French. This organization, under the leadership of Ms. Leggett, attempts to stimulate an interest in its members in French and to reinforce and enlarge the French vocabulary, giving individuals an opportunity to converse in French in an informal atmosphere.

This year, members of this club engaged in Christmas, Valentine and Easter activities. In addition to their annual French banquet, they also sponsored the first county-wide French dinner.

Beta Club

Promoting the ideals of character, service, and leadership among students, rewarding meritorious achievement, and encouraging and assisting students to continue their education after high school are the purposes of the National Beta Club. In November, students who had attained the high ideals necessary for membership were inducted as new members into the Beta Club at CFHS.

Strong leadership coupled with an eagerness to serve resulted in an unlimited calendar of spirited activities and enthusiastic support. Although such words as homecoming, pride chain, essay contest, induction ceremony, conventions, elections, and Christmas became familiar to Betas as they planned the sequence of annual events, good will must be included in the roll call of occurrences. In October, the CFH Betas hosted the Southeastern District Beta Convention for the second consecutive year at which time Melinda West was elected District President. Adding to the list of accomplishments of this prestigious group, Joe Catlett was elected State Beta President in April of 1980 at the state convention in Raleigh.

This year the Betas took on the task of producing a literary publication entitled Bits and Pieces. It included poems as well as prose works of students and faculty members of Cape Fear High. By energetic participation and exemplary deeds the Beta Club continues to make a place for itself in the bustling schedule at Cape Fear High School.

Art Club

Michael Ehinger, President
Katrina Maxwell, Vice-President
Gretchen Smith, Secretary
Wendy Edwards, Treasurer
John Downing, Treasurer
Mr. Kleinert, Advisor

The purpose of the art club is to support and promote the visual arts through various fund raising activities at CFHS and to provide a higher quality of arts for many of our school's events. The twenty-two members of this club came to the rescue of the Miss Cape Fear High Pageant, Little Miss Cape Fear High Pageant, the talent show, Junior-Senior Prom, and Brotherhood Week. In addition, artistic talent was displayed through art projects in the media center and on bulletin boards. Always ready to offer a helping hand, this talented group came to the aid of any organization whenever their services were needed.

Michael Ehinger, one of the club's most artistic students, attended the Governor's School for Performing Arts last summer.

Drama Club

Matthew Johnson, President
Keith Overton, Vice-President
Dora McAlpin, Secretary
Jackie Cooper, Treasurer
Joan Goff, Sergeant-at-Arms
Mrs. Corders, Advisor

The Drama Club strives to create an interest in and an awareness of the theatrical arts. Membership is open to any student who has an interest in drama and who wishes to entertain. In her first role as director of the Cape Fear Players, Mrs. Corders directed these aspiring actors and actresses in the tragic but well-beloved play, "The Diary of Anne Frank" in December, and in April scored yet another success with Neil Simon's "Come Blow Your Horn."

Inner Club Council

Kelly Smith, Chairman
Gretchen Smith, Secretary
Ms. Leggett, Advisor

The Inner Club Council is an organization composed of the presidents of each club at Cape Fear High. Serving as a median through which clubs become aware of the activities of each and unifying these organizations to better the execution of school wide activities are the aims of this twenty-seven member group. Led by Student Council Vice-President Kelly Smith and advised by Ms. Leggett, the Inner Club Council also elects the Club of the Month and the Club of the Year in which outstanding clubs are recognized for participation and accomplishments in club endeavors.

Mrs. Underwood, Advisor
Camille Smith, Editor-in-Chief of Hoofbeat
Ms. Tew, Advisor
Gretchen Smith, Editor-in-Chief of Bits & Pieces
Mrs. Damron, Advisor

Quill and Scroll is a national scholastic journalism organization which recognizes students who are active in a school publication. Sponsored by Mrs. Underwood, Ms. Tew and Mrs. Damron, Quill and Scroll endeavors to promote interest in the field of journalism and to instill in its members an interest in creative writing and yearbook publication. Members of the Hoofbeat, Résumé, and Bits and Pieces staffs, with a "B" or above average, compose this journalist group.

VICA

Mike Ehinger, President
Lloyd Bullard, Vice-President
Kenneth McLamb, Secretary
Dennis Southern, Treasurer
George Vickers, Sergeant-at-Arms
Kenneth Kuznicki, Reporter
Hosea M. Ray, Advisor

Uniting in a common bond, students enrolled in trade and industrial education compose the twelve members of the Vocational Industrial Clubs of America. These young men strive to promote citizenship, leadership, and public awareness of high standards in trade ethics, workmanship, scholarship and safety. Under the direction of a new advisor, Mr. Ray, VICA participated in a campus clean-up, adopted a needy family, and entered the District VICA Drafting Contest and Skills Olympics and the state-wide VICA Drafting and Skills Olympics.

DECA

Jeffery Bullock, President
Denise Johnson, Vice-President
Gloria Thomas, Secretary
Stanley Collier, Treasurer
Karen Bathke, Historian
Connie Walker, Parliamentarian
Mrs. Hood, Advisor
Mr. Basnight, Advisor

The Distributive Education Clubs of America is designed to help develop leadership, civic consciousness, social intelligence, and vocational understanding. The 108 members actively participated in eleven different projects this year. They attended the District Leadership Conference. District Officers Training, District IV Christmas Bash, District Competitive Events Meeting, State Leadership Conference, National Career Development Conference, Phillips Petroleum Free Enterprise Project, Pepsi-Cola Learn and Earn Project, Muscular Dystrophy Project, and Roses Chapter Achievement Project. Local president Jeffery Bullock was elected President of the District IV DECA.

Andy Langston, President
Melanie Kuznicki, Vice-President
Diane Hair, Secretary
Jackie Whitted, Treasurer
Mrs. Melvin, Advisor

Working together for a better tomorrow, Active Cooperative Training Organization's purpose is to help students develop leadership, civic responsibility and vocational awareness. Under the supervision of Mrs. Melvin, ACTO club members participated in various field trips and competed in county competition with other ACTO clubs. They also hosted their annual Employer-Employee Banquet in May.

Science Club

Kurt Fehlman, President
Mike Ehinger, Vice-President
Mike Brown, Secretary
David Cooper, Treasurer
Mrs. Brown, Advisor
Mr. Averitte, Advisor

The Science Club is an organization that promotes scientific knowledge through practical experiences. Aiming to promote a higher interest in science, club members attend and enter projects in the regional science fair at county and state levels. Participating in homecoming week activities, the Science Club sold helium balloons to lift the school spirit. They also sponsored a cook-out in November for active members.

FHA

Sandra Snow, President
Pam Carroll, Vice-President
Clentis Smith, Secretary
Robbin Bain, Reporter
Pam Mitchell, Historian
Miss Strickland, Advisor

The Future Homemakers of America strengthen the function of the family as a basic unit of society, making its members more aware of the multiple roles of men and women in today's society. The purposes of the FHA are to encourage democracy through cooperative action in the home and community, to improve opportunities for decision-making and assuming responsibilities, to involve youth with adults in individual and group activities, and to promote better understanding of home economics and careers related to home economics. The twenty-seven members during the course of the year, attended district and state conventions, and participated in the Cumberland County Fair Booth where they won a first place prize and best overall.

FFA

Nicky Spell, President
Mark Smith, Vice-President
Gretchen Matthews, Secretary
Bill Draughon, Treasurer
Lynn McLaurin, Reporter
Al Strickland, Parliamentarian
Jeff Green, Sentinel
Mr. Jernigan, Advisor
Mr. Warren, Advisor

The primary aim of the Future Farmers of America is the development of agricultural leadership, cooperation, and citizenship. FFA encourages members to develop confidence in themselves and their work. This year the club once again performed well in federation and district contests. Services were rendered in soil conservation work, community development, and closer parent-member cooperation.

FBLA

Wendy Parker, President
Laurie Autry, Vice-President
Kim Baker, Secretary
Lorinda Faircloth, Treasurer
Mrs. Carter, Advisor
Mrs. Hall, Advisor

The purpose of the Future Business Leaders of America is to develop competent, aggressive leadership in its members. FBLA aims to create in young adults more interest and understanding in the intelligent choice of business occupations. It encourages its members to develop individual projects and to participate in worthy undertakings for the improvement of business and community.

This year members carried on the tradition of selling mums during Homecoming Week.

Bus Drivers' Club

Kim Langston, President
Johnny Bullard, Vice-President
Sylvia Fuller, Secretary
Pamela Forte, Assistant Secretary
David L. Pugh, Advisor

The Bus Drivers' Club, composed of one hundred CFHS active certified school bus drivers and under the direction of Mr. Pugh, endeavors to upgrade the entire school bus program as it relates to driver quality, safety of operation in actual driving, and safety for bus passengers. This organization of indispensable student drivers held its annual banquet on May 21, and continued the tradition of sponsoring the bus driver of the month and the bus driver of the year awards.

Something Special

Jeffery Bullock, President
Sheila Bass, Secretary
Mrs. Swartz, Advisor
Mr. Basnight, Advisor

In its third year of existence, Something Special continued to exemplify its established purpose of creating an atmosphere for Christian fellowship. Desire was the prerequisite for membership. Weekly meetings were held before school every Tuesday where twenty-three club members were inspired by Bible studies, Christian movies, and guest speakers. Under the direct supervision of Mrs. Swartz and Mr. Basnight, these special people grew spiritually.

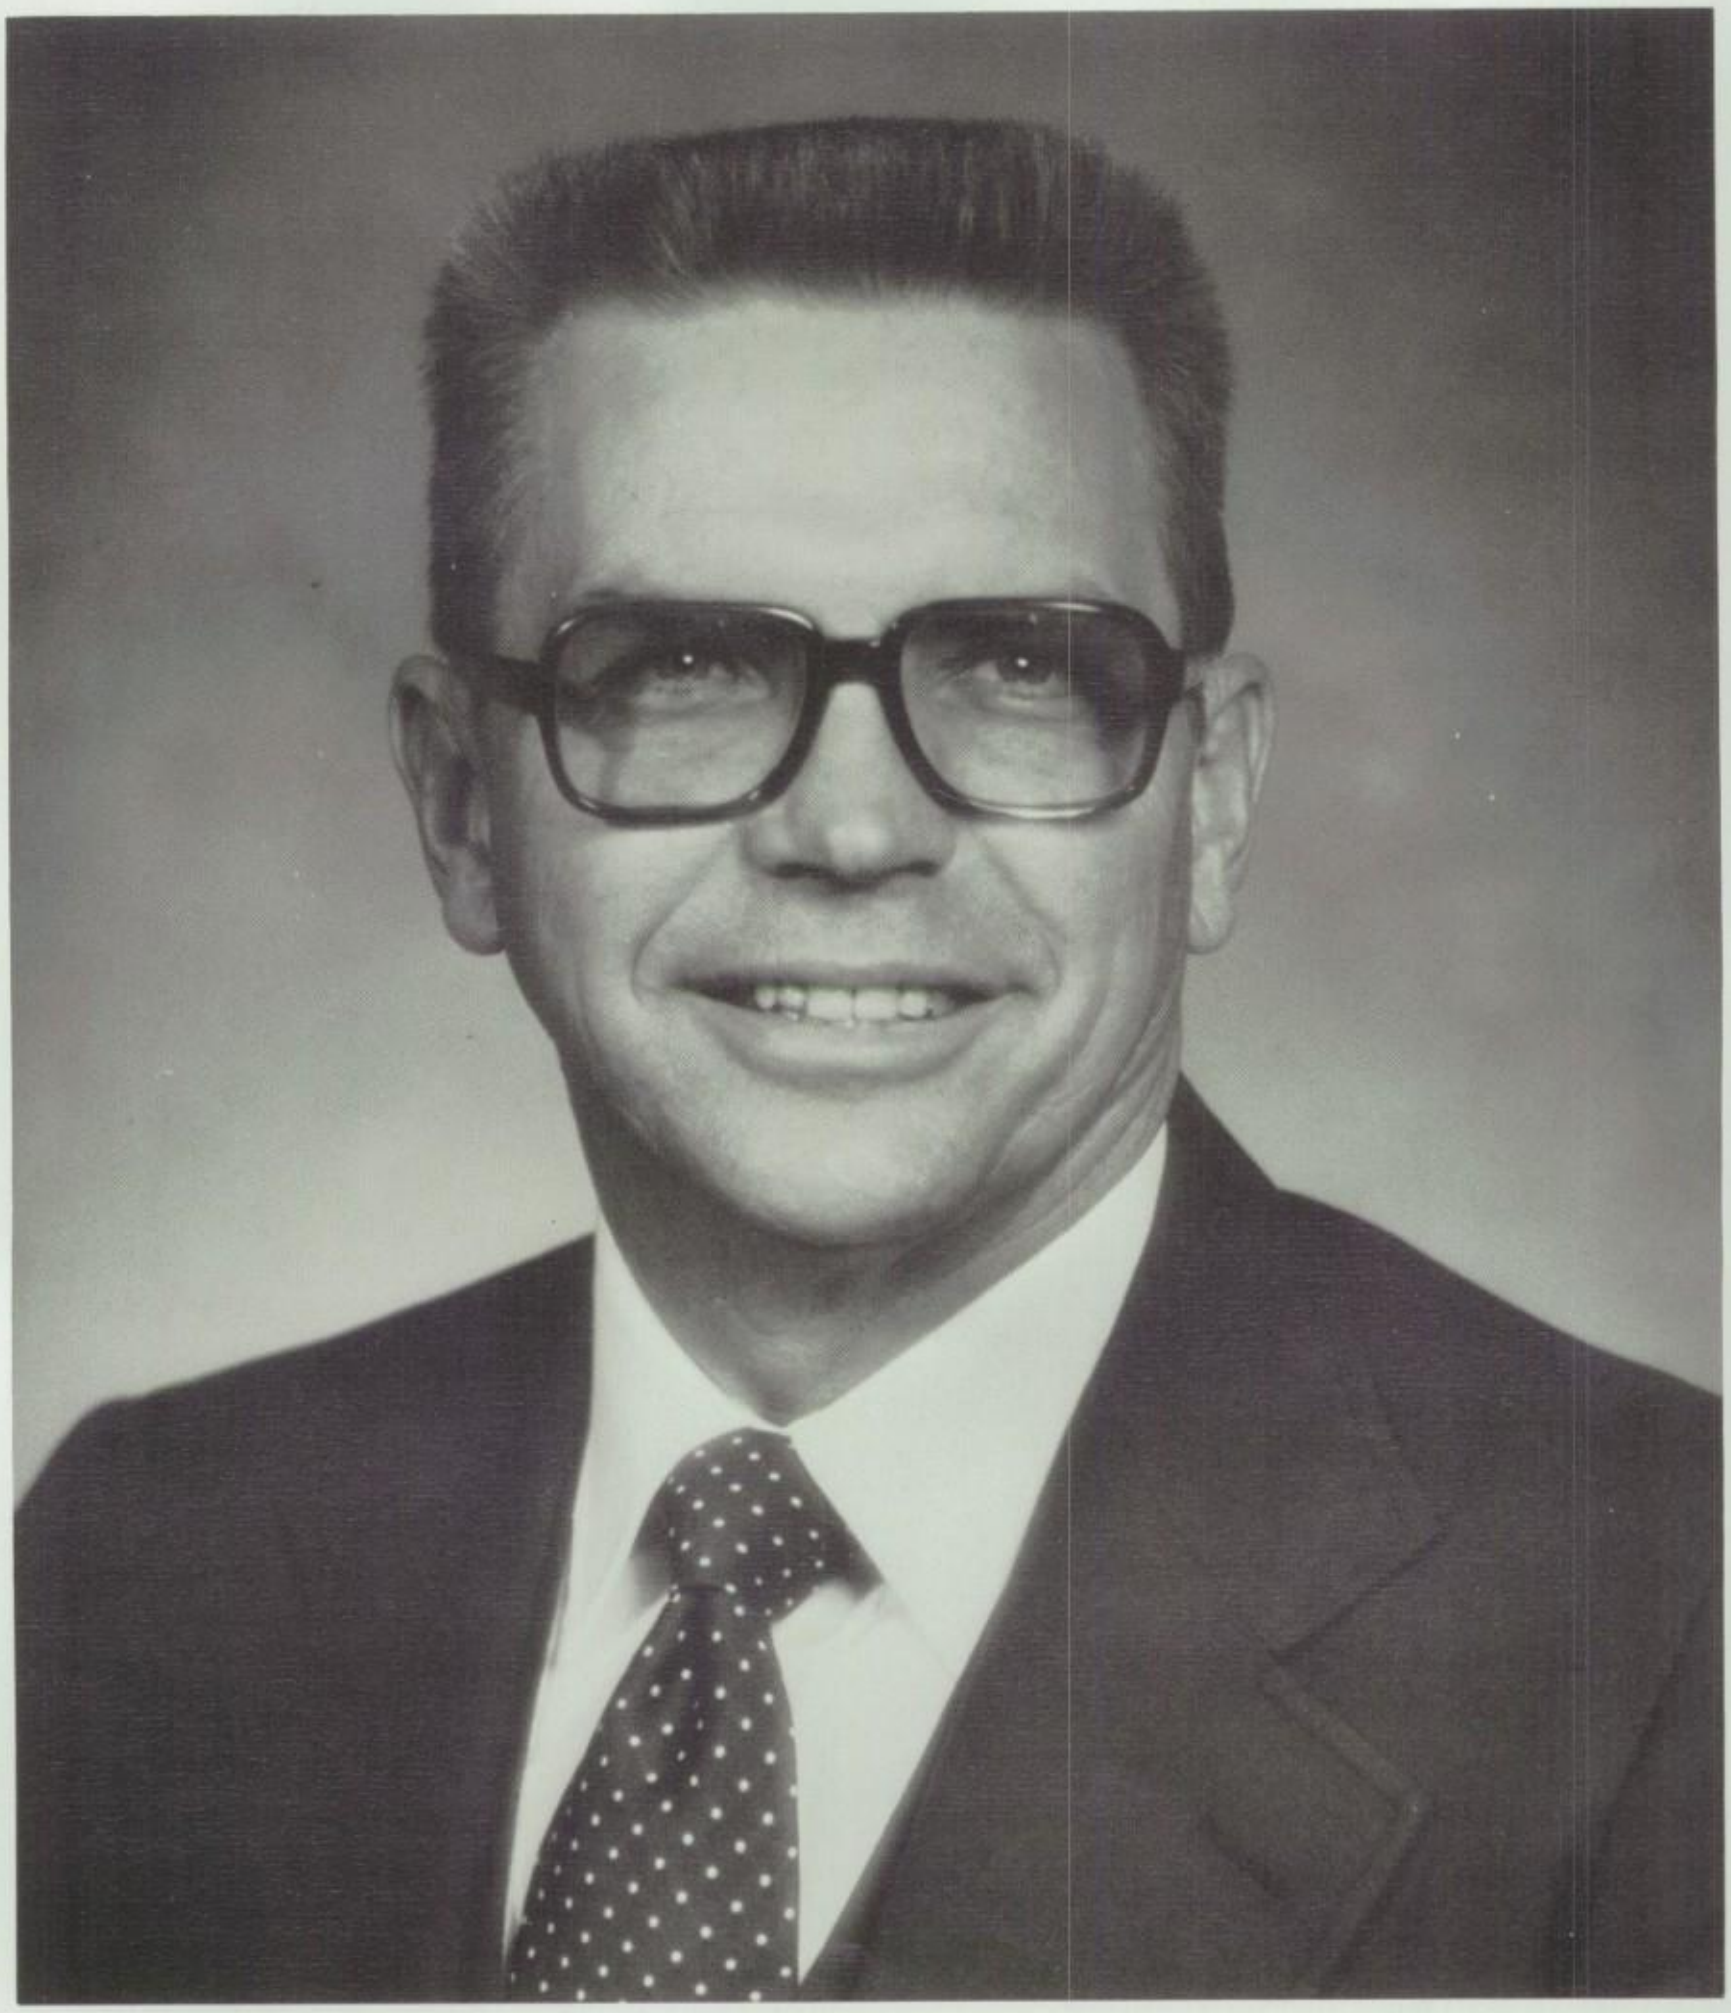
Dr. Britt Assumes Superintendentship of Cumberland County School System

In his first year as superintendent of the Cumberland County School System, Dr. Jack Britt has clearly established himself as a dedicated educator. Because he has been associated with the Cumberland County system since 1956, as an assistant superintendent for twelve years and then as associate superintendent for the next eight years, he is knowledgeable in regard to the educational needs of the Cumberland County schools. Dr. Britt continues to reinforce the strong instructional program of his predecessor, Mr. C. Wayne Collier, and has proposed and implemented several worthwhile policies of his own which include organizing a PTA in each school in the system and adding intramurals in the curriculum. It is our desire that Dr. Britt will continue in his quest to provide quality education for the youth of Cumberland County for many years to come.



Mr. Horton Exemplifies Leadership for Twelfth Consecutive Year

Friendly, concerned, and energetic, Mr. George W. J. Horton is the man behind Cape Fear High School. He is determined that our Alma Mater flow in today's mainstream of education and that CFHS offer a curriculum that will meet the needs of all students. His well-organized mind is constantly functioning in the management of all facets of our school. While stressing the importance of academic endeavors, he also employs a sincere interest in extracurricular activities.

Over the past twelve years, Mr. Horton has won the respect and admiration of his peers, his faculty, and his student body. His leadership exemplifies his firm faith that those he leads will go about their duties guided by his high standards.

Mr. Surles Serves CFHS With Dignity and Enthusiasm

Mr. James Surles upholds a great responsibility in the administration of CFHS as associate principal. A man of wisdom and courage, energy and restraint, Mr. Surles is a symbol of leadership and a competent administrator in the best sense of the word. Over the past two years, he has established himself as a fair, but firm, educator and has played a major role in the metabolism of our Alma Mater. His academic policies, in conjunction with his involvement and support in the athletic department, have contributed profoundly to the amelioration of our programs. Always busy, Mr. Surles assists Mr. Horton with the yearly budget, designs and alters the curriculum, interviews and hires teachers, constructs the school calendar, copes with major and minor problems, and yet still finds time to open his door to anyone who seeks to enter. He is truly an asset to Cape Fear High and his endowed committment is beyond recognition.

Mr. Weaver Demonstrates Genuine Concern For Students

Over the past three years, Mr. James C. Weaver has become known as our diplomatic attache serving as a link between students and administrators. Mr. Weaver's days are filled to capacity handling student affairs, supplying substitute teachers, disciplining delinquent students, overseeing attendance records, and keeping up with a thousand students seven periods a day. Yet, he has time for any student with a problem as his concern is a genuine concern for all young people. Quick to give advice or assist in any difficulties that may arise, Mr. Weaver is a dedicated and conscientious administrator.

Mr. Pugh Directs Bus Transportation

Mr. David L. Pugh is the man behind Cape Fear High School's bus program and is director of bus transportation. Through rain, sleet, or snow Mr. Pugh always manages the safety of our buses and passengers with the greatest of ease. Training and assigning qualified bus drivers, finding last-minute substitutes, recording time-sheets, routing buses, and handling bus conduct are just a few of the duties which Mr. Pugh encounters. His devotion to CFHS and to the bus program is unparalleled.

English

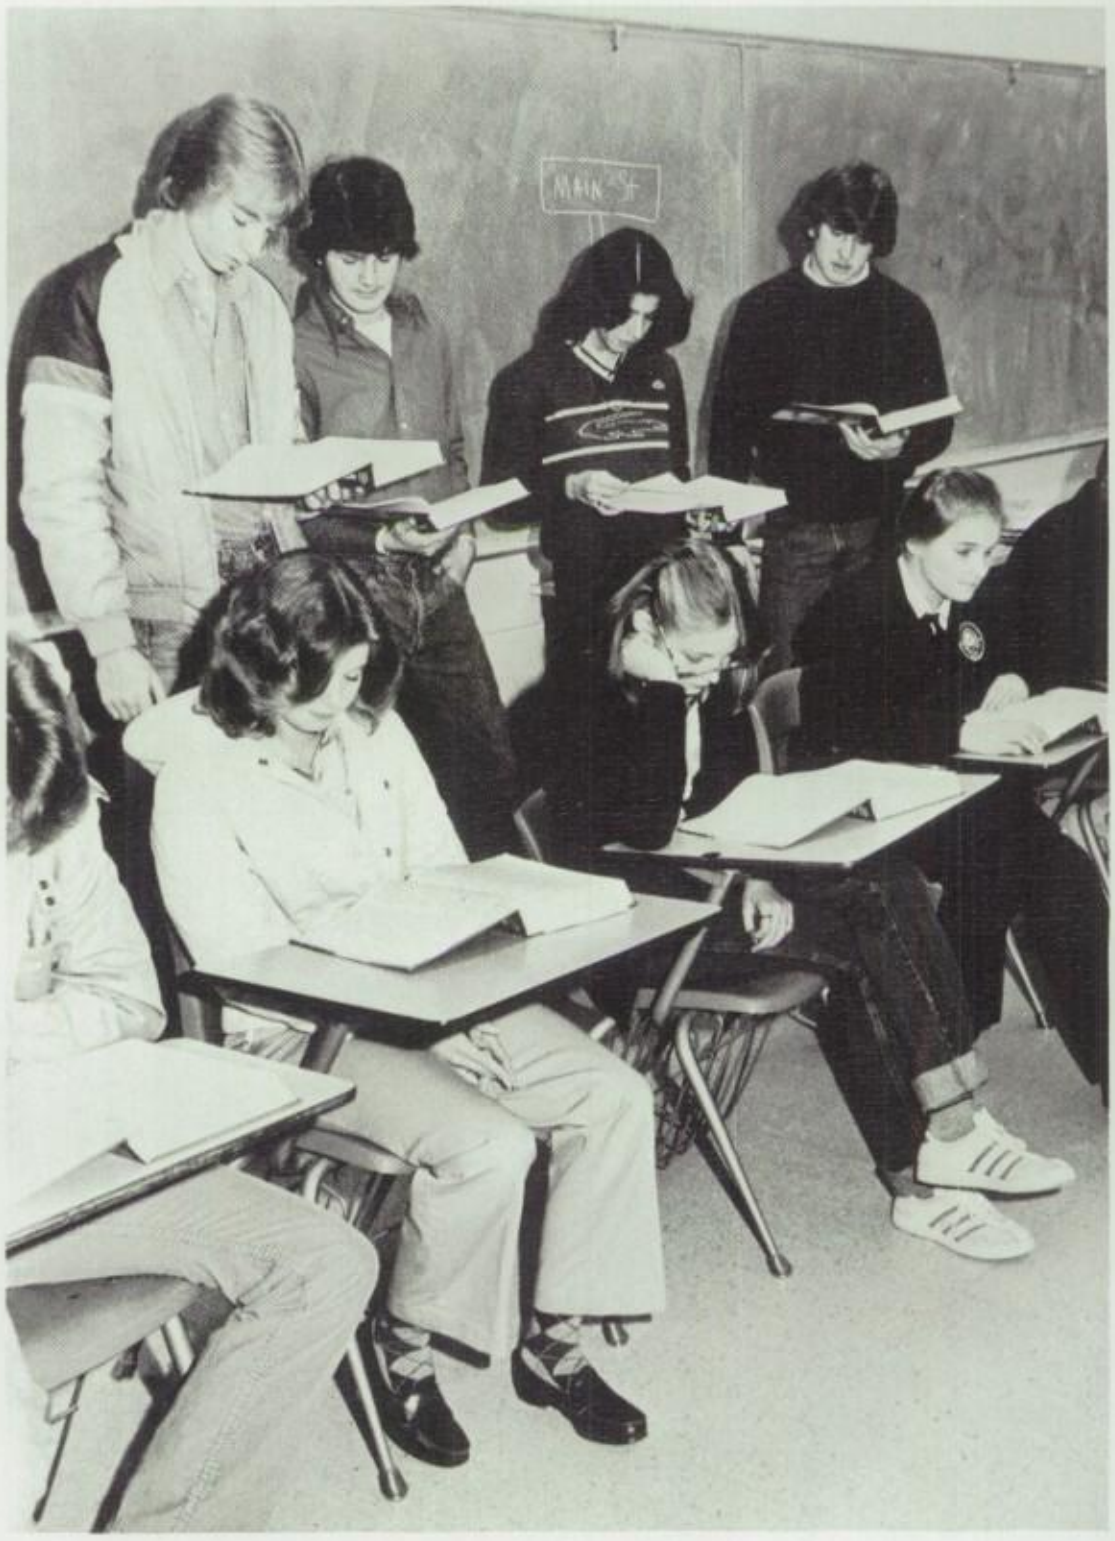
English, encompassing a wide and diversified field, is a universal language and is spoken in many countries of the world today. The desire to understand the ideas of others, to be understood, and the ability to communicate effectively is a necessity if one is to succeed in today's world.

In addition to English II, III, and IV, the English department offers the following courses in order to allow more effectively for individual differences, interests, and capabilities: advanced English, where emphasis is placed on the art of written communication; journalism, where basic training in reporting skills are taught with emphasis placed on news and editorial writing; speech, where self-expression in public speaking is stressed; drama, where techniques in stage production are taught; and two language labs, where students with reading problems are given individual instruction. Our English department strives to mold a generation of efficient communicators who will become the leaders of tomorrow's society.

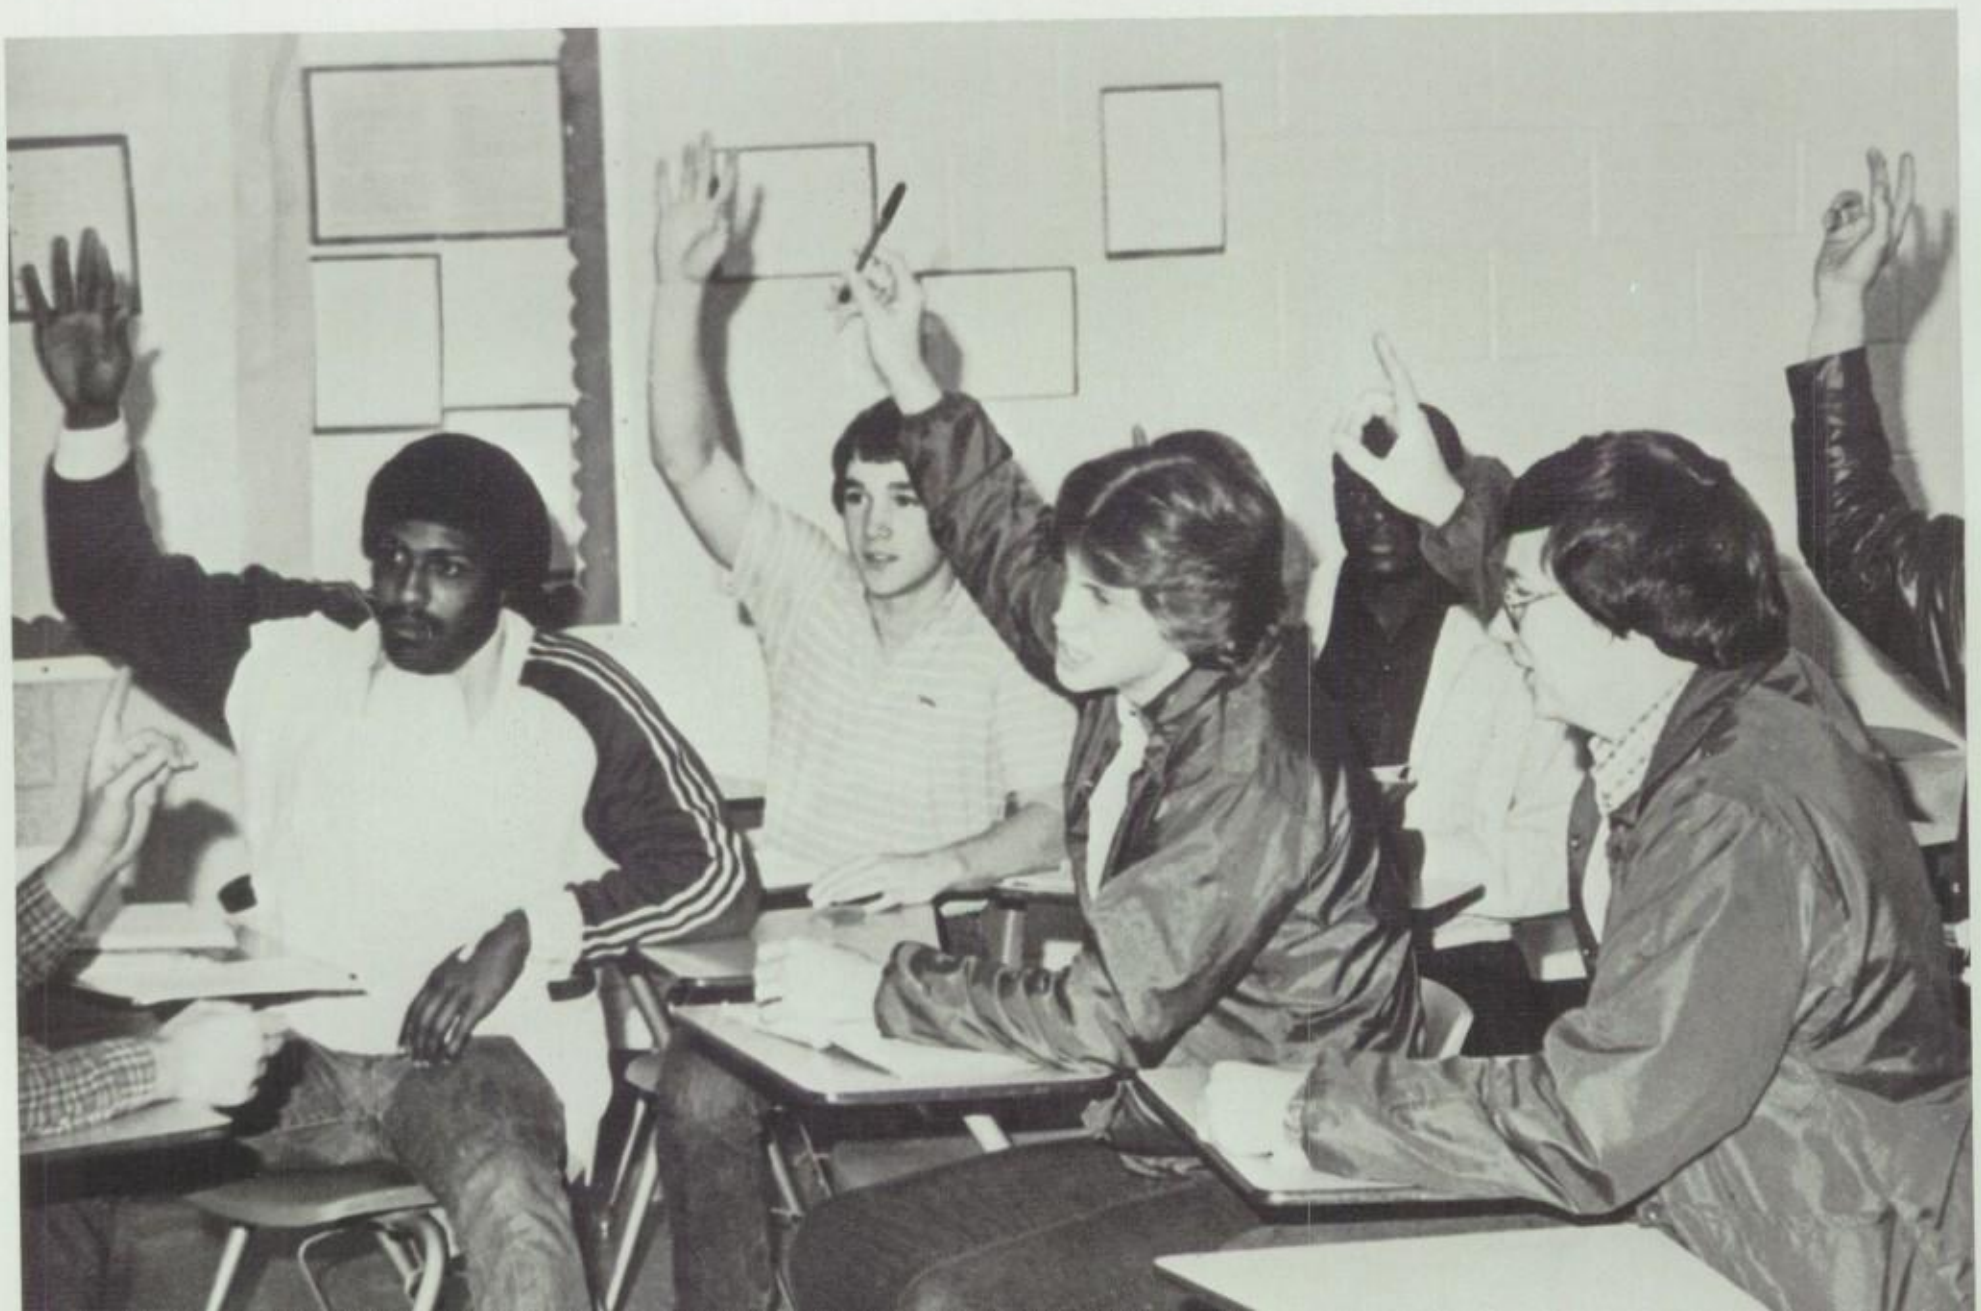


Foreign Languages

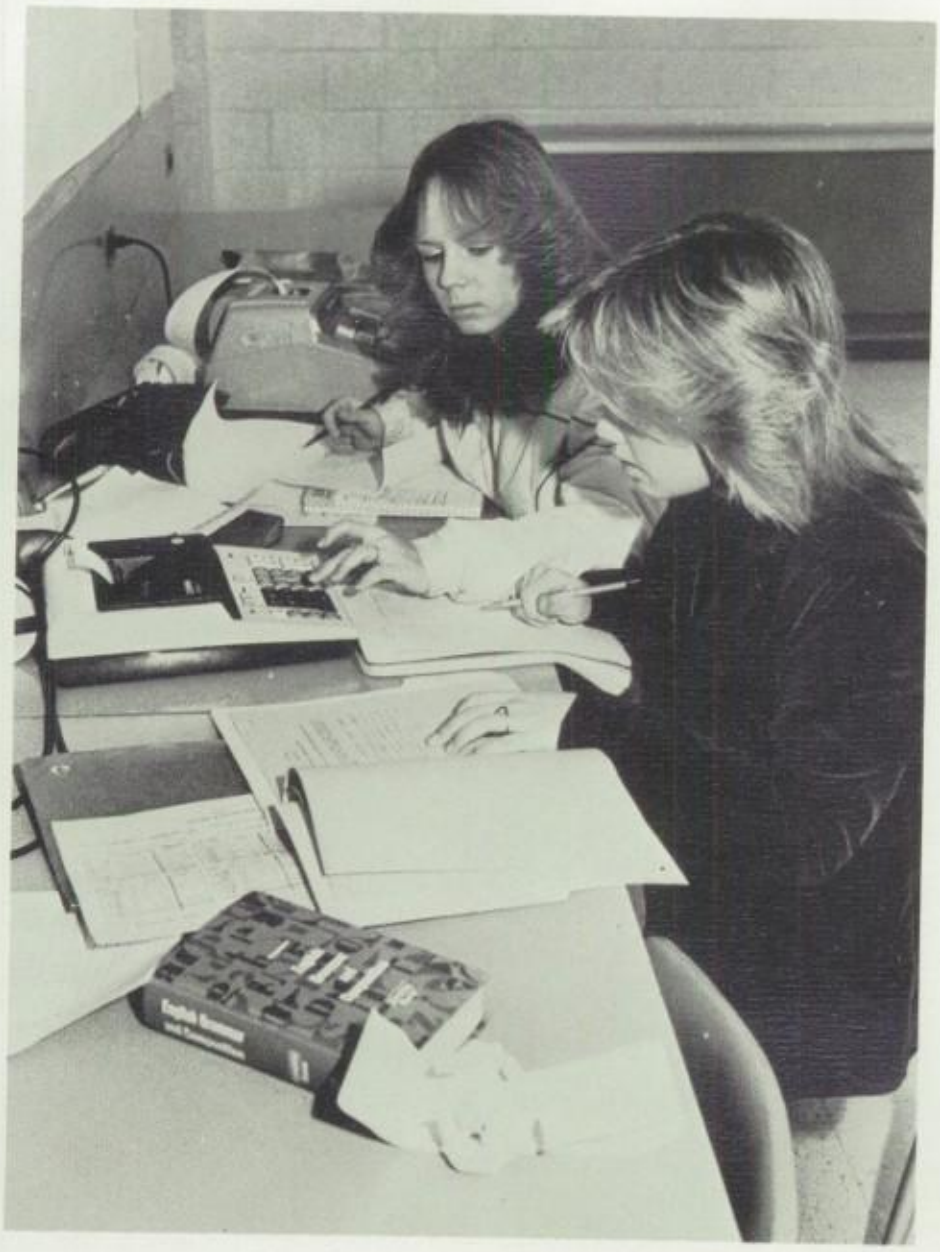
Obtaining a much broader appreciation of other people through communications is vitally important in this modern world of ever-changing cultures. Through a complete study of basic language mechanics, students are carefully instructed in the art of communication in a foreign language. Although courses in a foreign language are not required for graduation, French and Spanish have proven to be popular electives at CFHS. We are fortunate in having a Spanish instructor whose native tongue is Spanish and a French instructor who speaks French fluently.

Social Studies

From the primitive days of the caveman to the universal problems of today, time has marched on. The social studies department provides the student with opportunities to examine the records of the past, review the current events of the present, and explore the problems of the future. This field of study allows the student to become familiar with world cultures, the government of nations, and the geography of the earth. A student may also become aware of the skills which enable him to know himself in relation to others and to the various components of society. In conjunction with this, the social studies department encourages the student to identify his own characteristics and the effect of his behavior toward others.



Business Education



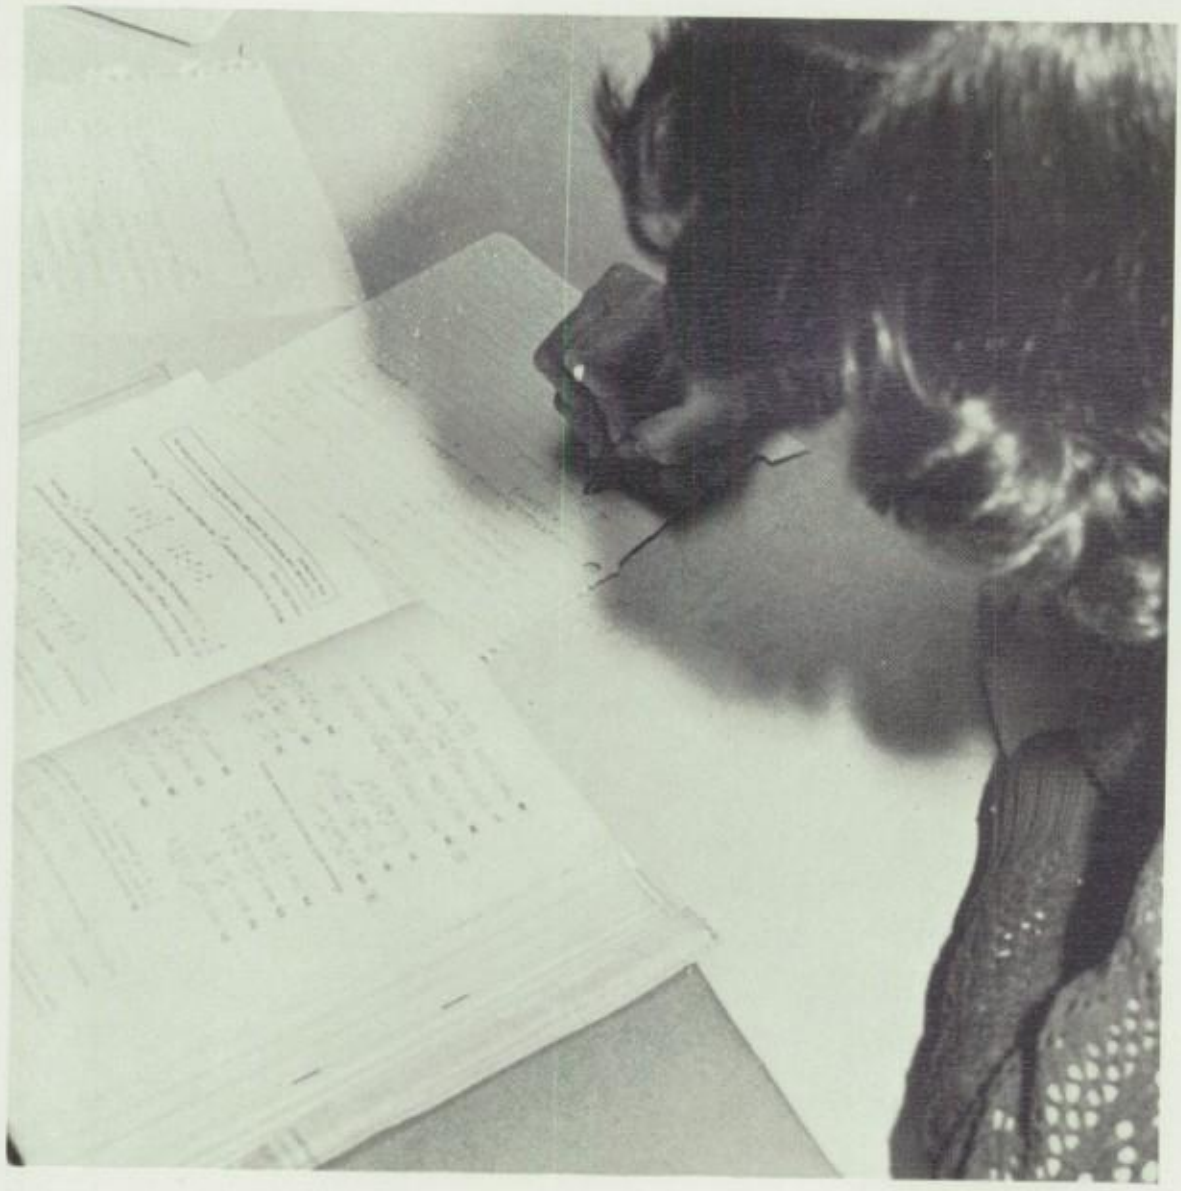
The aim of the Business Education Department is to provide specialized vocational training for those students who plan a career in business. The department strives to better prepare students for a smooth adjustment to a complex economic society. The courses offered give students an opportunity to educate themselves in a business occupation that may lead to the developemnt of a more advanced and successful business world. The interest in business careers has prompted Cape Fear High to provide an outstanding business department. Courses offered include accounting, typing, office occupations, shorthand, business mathematics, record keeping, business law, and economics.

Science

Science is the knowledge of facts, phenomena, laws, and proximate causes, gained and verified by exact observation, organized experiment, and correct thinking. It is the sum of universal knowledge.

The study of science at CFHS challenges a student to discover the world around him and to understand it. Offering a great wealth of knowledge, the science department inspires the curiosity in the student and encourages him to more indepth study. Providing courses for all levels of competency, the science department offers a variety of courses which include general, academic, and advanced biology; general and academic chemistry; and physics. It is not important which aspect the student explores but that he is concerned in broadening his view of our scientific world.

Mathematics

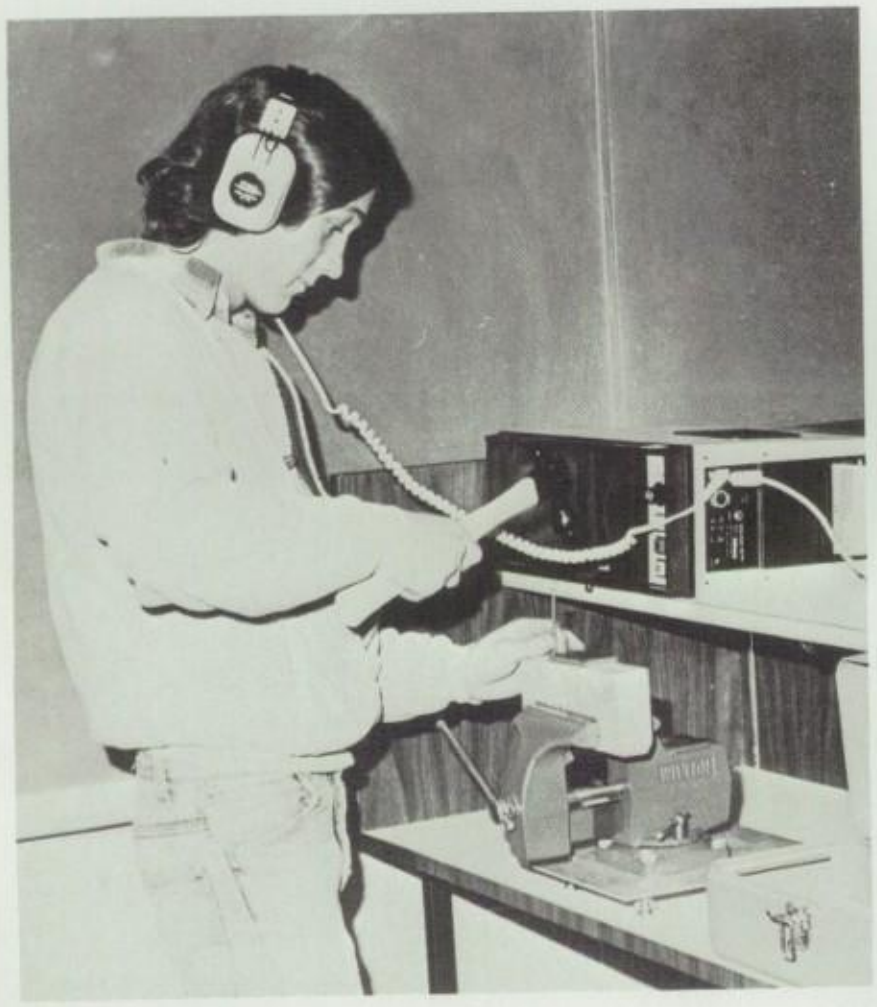


Mathematics is the science dealing with quantity, form, measurement, and arrangement, and the methods for discovering them.

Our mathematics program at CFHS offers advanced courses in algebra, advanced math, and trigonometry for the college bound or mathemically adept students. Basic operations and competency skills are reinforced in general and refresher mathematics. Business math provides knowledge of mathematical procedures in the business world, while consumer math deals with the day to day mathematical problems of consumers. Students work with geometrical figures and solve proofs in geometry, while trigonometry specializes in the relationships of angles in triangles. With such a wide variety of courses, every Cape Fear High mind can be challenged.

Vocational Programs

The vocational programs, consisting of drafting, the newly initiated "hands and minds," distributive education, automotive mechanics, industrial and active cooperative training, are government funded programs that teach students salable skills. Students attend classroom lectures gaining valuable instruction, and in some of these programs students receive on-the-job training. Through these courses the participants can gain experience and first hand knowledge that will ease the transition from high school to full-time employment.



Home Economics/Agriculture

The agriculture department has a broad definition that includes courses in various vocations of mechanics, agricultural production and horticulture.

Instruction in agriculture and auto mechanics includes shop work that is of great value to the beginning of a career as a mechanic. The importance of these courses cannot be realized until one thinks how indispensable mechanics are to society.

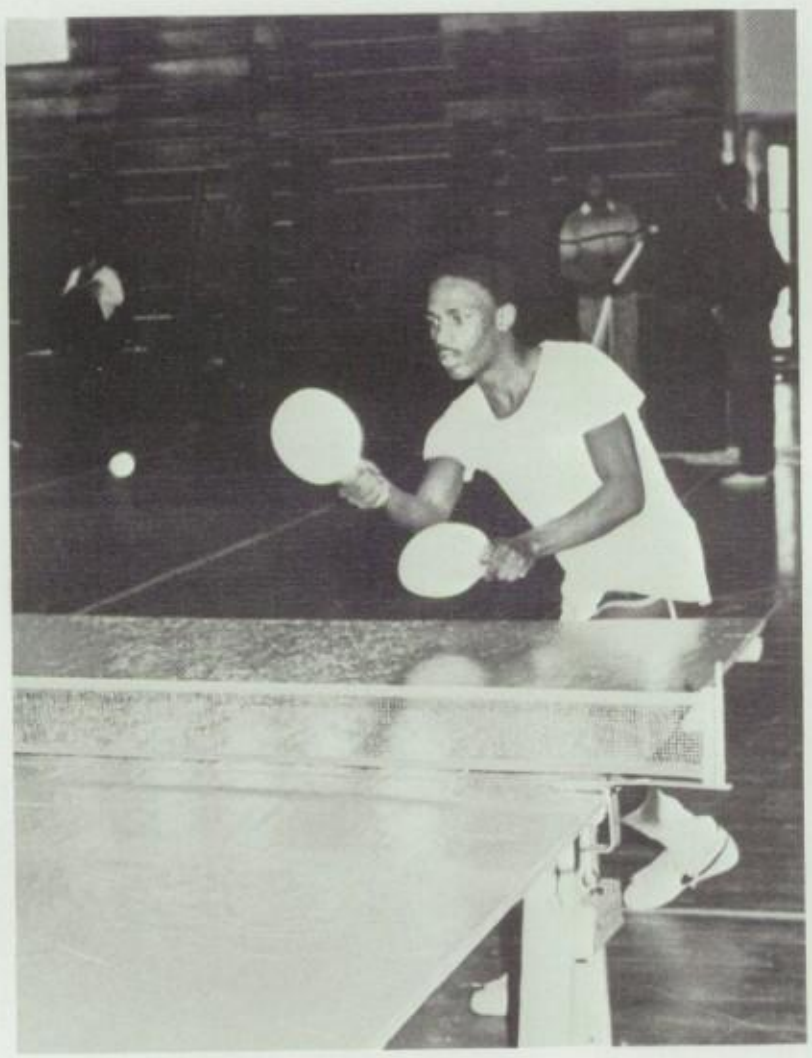
With the horror of world hunger becoming a reality, instruction of proper methods of farming and agriculture becomes increasingly important. Horticulture and agriculture production courses are popular with students in our agriculturally-based area.

Home Economics is no longer just for girls! Courses offered by this department are equally as important to male students today as they are to female students. With more women becoming employed outside the home each year, there is less time to devote to household duties; therefore, men are having to share with these responsibilities. The home economics department is preparing to meet these needs by offering courses in child care, family life, food services, nutrition and clothing. Through these courses students are learning valuable skills that will be beneficial to them throughout life.

Physical Education

There is an increasing awareness of the importance of physical fitness in today's society. Many people are discovering the benefits of athletic activity, good health, vitality, and even better mental capacity. The physical education department at CFH provides a basis upon which a student's athletic ability may be considerably improved. The fitness aspect is stressed a great deal, along with other important attributes such as leadership, teamwork, and dedication. P.E. students may mature and learn much about life through this curriculum, consisting of many various and enjoyable athletic activities.

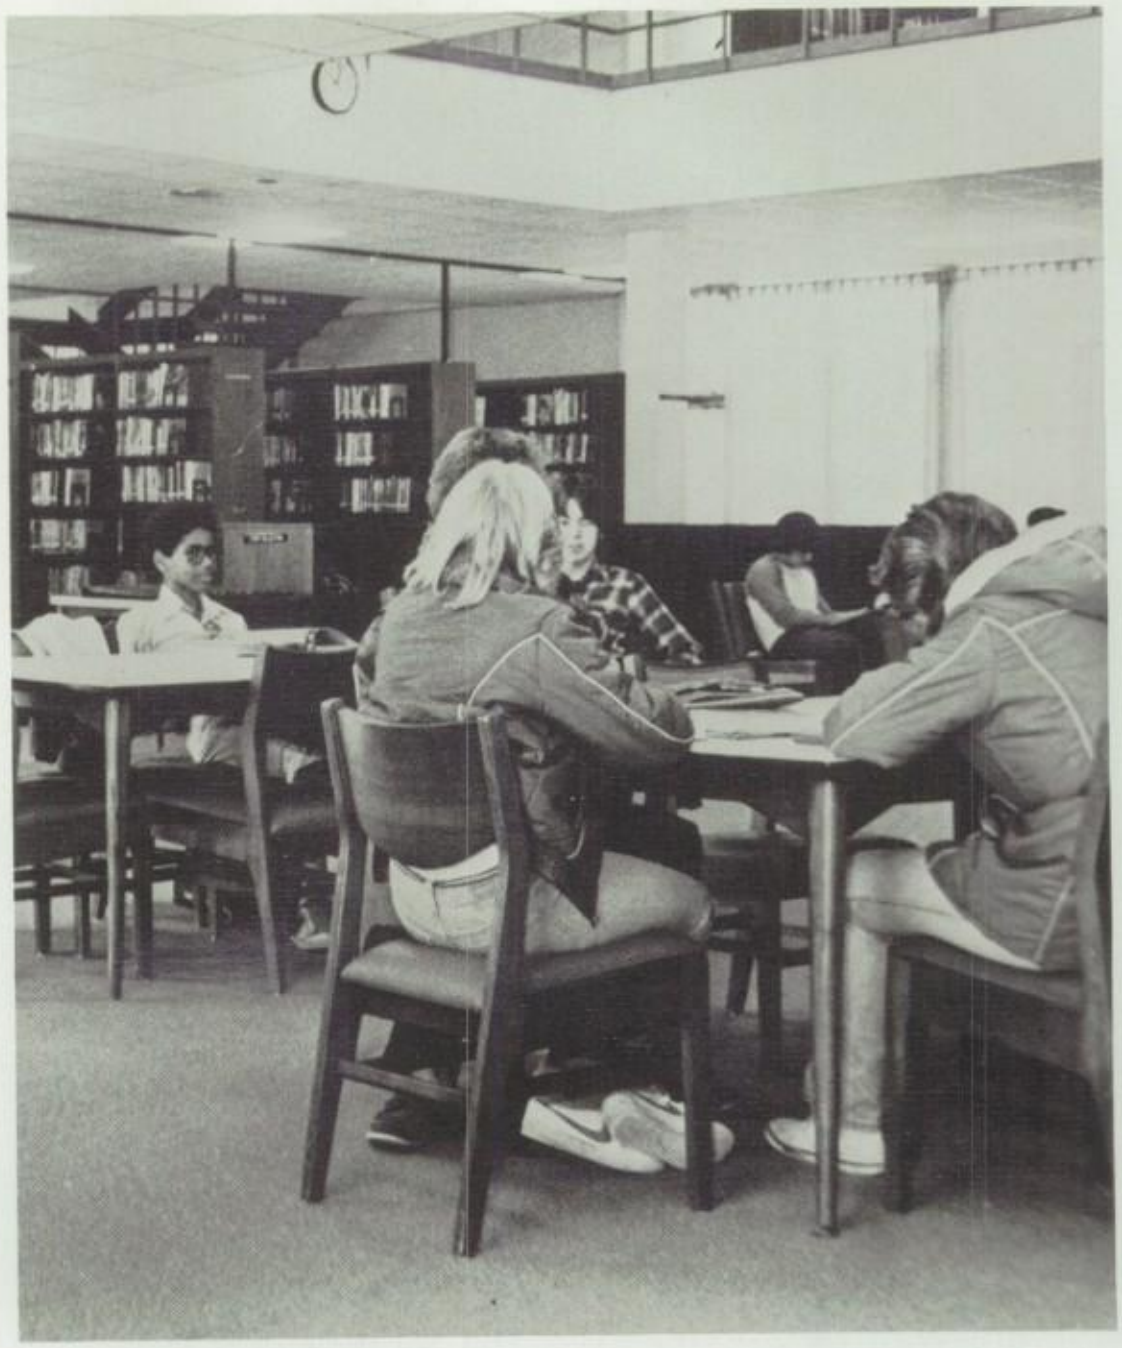
A successful intramural basketball program was initiated this year under the supervision of Coach Blount. Games were scheduled during lunch periods, and the excellent participation gave many an opportunity to enjoy more of the competitiveness of what is probably our areas most popular sport.



Fine Arts

Both art and music play a very important role in the curriculum at Cape Fear High School. They each provide an exciting and interesting contrast to the academic side of school life. Through chorus and band, students work long hours on music for performance in contests and concert. Through art, students can express otherwise hidden talents in their artwork which is displayed throughout the school and county. Cape Fear High is a much better school because of these worthwhile programs with highly qualified instructors from which all students can benefit. As a result of training received in this department, sixteen members of the band were named to the All-State Band, and three of our students were invited to attend the Governor's School of Performing Arts last summer — Mike Ehinger in art and Tina Stewart and Kelly Smith in music.

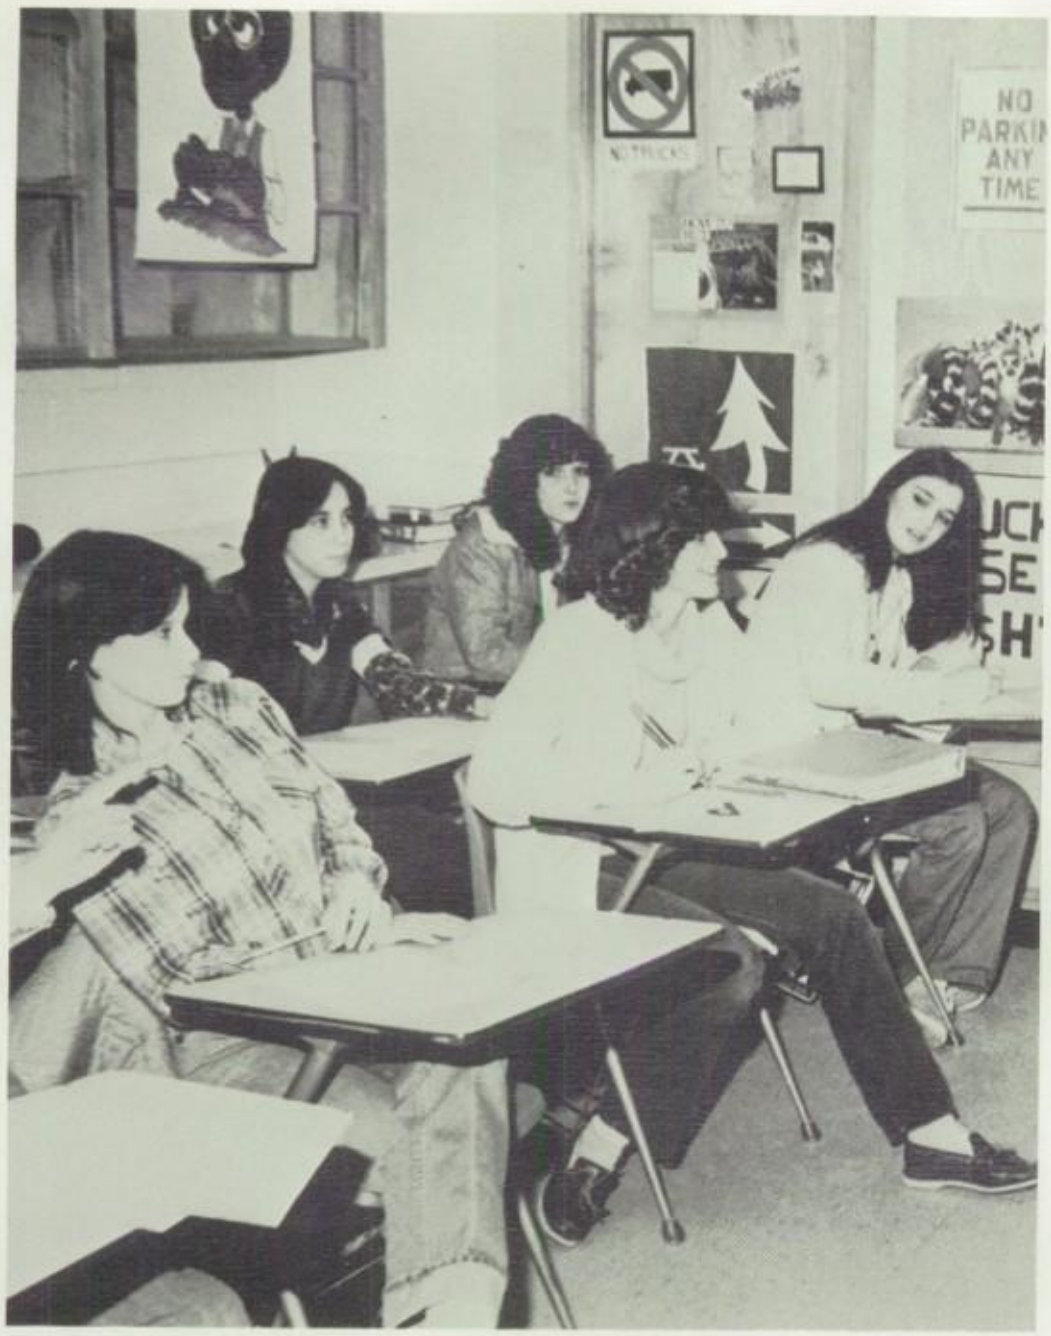
Guidance/Media Center



The guidance department is a vital part of CFHS and deals with all aspects of student life. Three full-time counselors help students select courses, schedule classes, find college financial aid, process senior transcripts, and discover interest and abilities through testing and counseling. These dedicated counselors seek to help each student find himself and utilize his talents in society.

Making media resources easily accessible to all students is the first aim of the media center, and approximately 250 students pass through the double doors each day seeking knowledge. With more emphasis being placed on the use of media in developing the total individual, resources in the form of printed material and audiovisual aids have grown rapidly, making this center truly a multimedia center.

Special Programs



The purpose of the EMH/SDL program is to provide educational needs on an individual basis, enabling these students to lead productive and complete lives. Emphasis this year has been placed on functional skills which are necessary to pass the competency test. Through the efforts of this department, students are able to lead productive and complete lives and make positive contributions to society.

The ESL and ESEA labs offer individual assistance and consideration to help students realize their academic potential. These labs are designed to help students learn basic skills that are needed not only in the classroom but also throughout life.

Driver's education is an important part of the curriculum for sixteen year olds, allowing these students an opportunity to learn the laws, attitudes, and correct procedure necessary for safe motor vehicle operation. Students attend classroom lectures for 36 hours, observe for 12 hours, and are then given a chance to put these principles into practical experience driving 6 hours under supervision.

Naval Sciences

The naval science department of Cape Fear High offers a three-year curriculum which includes academic instruction and military drill. Naval technology, seamanship, oceanography and citizenship are among the many subjects taught by three well-qualified retired Navy instructors.

A cadet participating in the Naval Junior Reserves Officers Training Corps develops leadership, military discipline, and responsible citizenship. These qualities are exhibited through excellent performances presented to the student body at assemblies and athletic events.

Competing in the Smithfield-Selma Drill Meet, the Cape Fear High NJROTC unit was presented with the Distinction of Best Male Navy Unit Award in North Carolina for the third consecutive year. These cadets were also named Best Overall unit out of fifty-six schools competing.

Mrs. Ann Tew, Dietitian

A staff of twelve highly skilled cafeteria personnel, headed by dietitian Mrs. Ann Tew, prepares two tasty and nutritious meals daily for approximately a thousand students and school personnel. Long before students begin arriving to school in the mornings, this group of dedicated workers are busy preparing breakfast for students and teachers who have to face the trials and tribulations of another school day. At noon a well-balanced lunch is served to those who desire a hot meal, in addition to offering a jiffy line and salad bar. Always willing to serve, the cafeteria staff is vital to the functioning of CFHS.

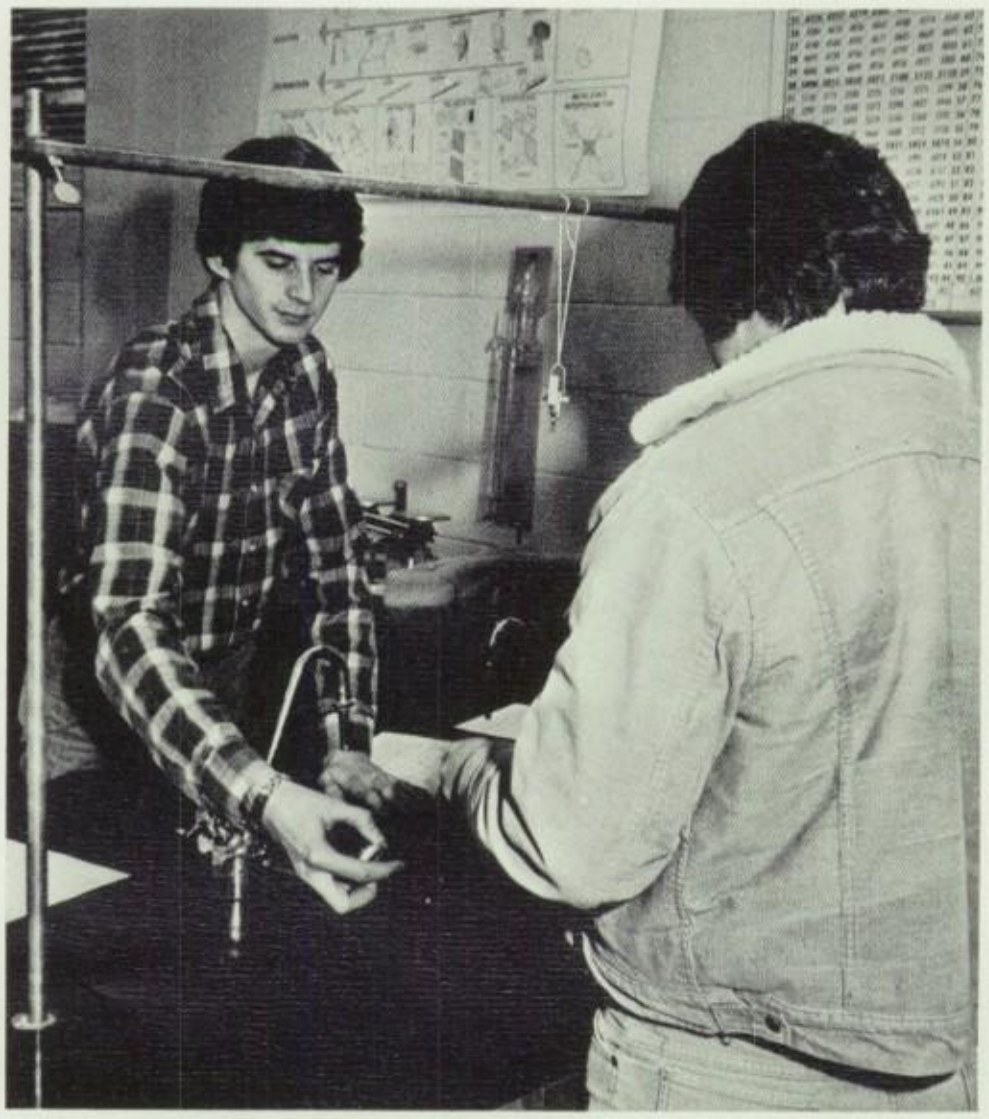
Autumn into winter,

winter into spring,

Spring into summer,
summer into fall.



So rolls the changing year,
and so we change . . .

HOME OF THE COLTS

Unknown the years that lie ahead,
But strongly arm'd are we.
By precepts wise we shall be led,
And take our strength from thee.
Alma Mater Cape Fear High,
Glory and our guide,
Far from your halls remembrance calls
With love and pride.
With spirits free we honor thee,
Our Cape Fear High!
